Small Crowd Attends Final Day of 112th County Fair

LISBON — Columbiana County's 112th annual fair closed Saturday night with an estimated total attendance of 25,000 for the five-day event.

Fair treasurer Richard Stamp of Salem gave the attendance estimates for each day as follows: Tuesday, 4,000; Wednesday, 5,000; Thursday, 6,000; Friday, 6,500; Saturday, 3,500. Children under 12 were admitted free, making an accurate count difficult.

A small grandstand crowd witnessed the final day of races Saturday afternoon, and only about 750 saw the final variety review Saturday night.

IN THE PONY PULL Saturday, ponies under 46 inches, the Burkett Pony Farm entry, Berlin Center, won the pull by pulling 2,400 pounds three feet seven inches.

Others in order of finish were: Elwood Roester, North Jackson; Roger Shoemaker, Louisville; Roy Johnson, Lisbon; Jim Best, North Lima; Jerry Mountz, Salem.

In the 46-50 inch pony class, winner was Jim Brown, Berlin pounds 12 feet 11 inches.

Other teams in order of finish were: Ritchie Sisters, Warren; Harry Dye, Phalanx Station; Ritchie Sisters, Warren; Ralph Anstine, Louisville; Bill Moore, Hookstown, Pa.; Paul Millbach, Akron; I. J. Skeels and Sons, Lisbon.

Racing winners Saturday afternoon were:

NANCY McLAUGHLIN, Homeworth was the outrider for all the races.

Klein's Attraction presented new acts on Saturday evening, and Les Kimris and his wife, Lee, officially closed the fair Saturday night with an aerial act.

Exhibitors worked far into the night and all day Sunday tearing down their displays and taking home their stock and equipment. Fair board members who arranged this year's fair are Galen Greenisen, president; Ben Weingart, vice president; Clarence Crosser, secretary; Richard Stamp, treasurer; P. R. Corey, c oncessionary; V. B. Lemley; Walter Johnson; Curtis Hively; and Clem Laughlin.

Girard Denies He Lured Brass Picker to Death

Soldier Says He's 'Sorry It Happened'

GI Shot at 4 Others, Prosecutors Contend In Japanese Trial

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard today denied Japanese charges that he lured a woman brass scavenger to her death on a U.S. firing range.

Japanese prosecutors entered a new accusation that the Army specialist from Ottawa, Ill., shot at four other Japanese before an empty cartridge case fired from his grenade launcher killed Mrs. Naka Sakai Jan. 30.

"The facts in the indictment are not correct," the 22-year-old GI told the three black-robed judges as his trial on a manslaughter charge opened in the Japanese District Court here.

In a brief statement Girard told the court Mrs. Sakai's death "was an accident as far as I'm concerned and I'm sorry it happened." The prosecution charged that he threw out empty shell casings to entice the scavengers onto the firing range, then shot at them.

Moving that the indictment be dismissed, the soldier's chief Japanese attorney Ituro Hayashi renewed the claim that Girard was carrying out his official duty and therefore is not subject to Japanese jurisdiction.

This argument originally had set off considerable congressional and press criticism in the United States of the Army's decision to let Japan try Girard. The U.S. Supreme Court finally upheld the Army action, ruling that a Japanese trial would not violate the soldier's constitutional rights.

Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawauchi said he would not rule on the jurisdiction issue until all the evidence in the case is heard and "the final decision is given." This is expected to be in late October or November. Hayashi said this was agreeable to him.

In accordance with the Japanese custom of extended recesses between sessions, the trial was adjourned after today's hearing until Sept. 6. It will move then to the Somagahara firing range, where the fatal shooting occurred.

The trial opened in a steaming hot little courtroom into which were jammed more than 90 people, including 35 spectators chosen

Damascus Girl, 3, Injured In Street Mishap

A three-year-old Damascus girl was slightly injured and one man was arrested Saturday in a series of three auto accidents that occurred on city streets.

Joy E. Atchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Atchison of Damascus, was treated at the Central Clinic for scalp lacerations following a mishap at 11:04 a.m. at the intersection of N. Lundy Ave. and Sugar Tree alley.

The girl was riding in a car driven by her father, 37, when it collided with a car operated by Harry Wilkinsen, 63, of Washingtonville. The girl was thrown against the windshield by the impact. She was riding in the lap of her mother.

Mathias J. Kuffelner, 44, of the Hanoverton Road was cited for failure to yield the right of way at 8:05 p.m. when the car he was driving struck a vehicle operated by Walter R. Meiter, 44, of 971 Newgarden St. at the intersection of N. Lincoln Ave. and E. 6th St.

Opal V. Hessler, 36, of 1542 Southeast Blvd. told police that a hit-skip driver had damaged her car sometime between 1 and 5 p.m. Saturday while the car was parked on S. Lundy Ave. near E. Pershing.

Ike Backers Eye Aid Compromise

Are Willing to Agree On Senate Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's supporters were reported willing to compromise today on a half-billion-dollar Senate increase over the $2,524,000,000 in new foreign aid funds voted by the House.

Republican Leader nowland of California said in an interview he expects the Senate Appropriations Committee to vote for a fund substantially higher than the House approved.

While Knowland declined to name any figure, some other Republicans said they would be lucky to boost the total to around three billion dollars.

This would be about 300 million dollars short of the amount Eisenhower has described as a minimum needed to carry out the mutual security program in the current fiscal year which began July 1.

There was bipartisan support in the Senate for increasing the House total, but little hope that the compromise would go along with an effort to lift the amount to the $3,367,000,000 previously fixed by Congress as a ceiling. Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) said, "I now looks like the committee will report out something between three billion dollars and $3,100,000,000."

Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) said he thinks Congress will put itself in "a silly position" if it doesn't restore the fund to about the amount of the ceiling it approved.

"There has been no change in the international situation that I

R.A.F. Resumes Action Against Omani Rebels

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—The British air force went into action in Oman again today after a two-week lull.

It was reported the action was against a village where Omani rebel leaders, Imam Ghaleb Ben Ali, his brother, Taleb, and Sheikh Suleiman Bin Himyar were believed hiding in the mountains.

They are reported preparing to organize a guerrilla campaign against Sultan Said Bin Taimur of Muscat and Oman.

It was believed the RAF dropped leaflets demanding the villagers hand over the rebel leaders immediately and threatening to blast the village if the demand is not met.

Unofficial reports from Muscat said 18 rebel tribesmen had been captured. A representative of the rebel Imam said in Cairo the British tortured them.

British officials rejected the charge. A spokesman said the British took no part in the arrests.

Compromise on Rights Bill Pushed in House

BULLETIN WASHINGTON (AP)—A roadblock against enactment of a compromise civil rights bill was cracked today.

Seven members signed an order forcing a meeting (11 a.m., EDT) of the House Rules Committee where the bill has been immobilized. This is a majority of the 12-man group and assures action on the bill.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bipartisan forces today start pushing a compromise civil rights bill toward final congressional action.

A coalition of pro-civil rights Democrats and Republicans prepared to force a meeting of the House Rules Committee where the bill has been immobilized.

Republican and Democratic congressional leaders last Friday broke a 17-day stalemate on the issue by agreeing on a compromise that would give federal judges limited powers to punish for criminal contempt in voting rights cases tried without a jury.

Rules Committee Chairman Smith (D-Va.) has refused to call a committee meeting. Until agreement was reached on the compromise, pro-civil rights Democrats on the 12-man rules group were unable to muster a majority to override the chairman. But now they expect Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) to provide the additional vote necessary to force a committee meeting.

Once a meeting is held, the Rules Committee is expected to write the compromise into the bill before sending it to the House for action, probably tomorrow.

Then the Senate will act. Southern senators apparently have no intention of staging a filibuster but plan to voice again their objections to the legislation.

It was not certain how much time these speeches will require, but the leadership goal is adjournment of Congress by this week end.

In its final form the bill is expected to contain:

1. Provision for a bipartisan civil rights investigating commission and for a special section of the Justice Department to handle civil rights matters.

2. New powers for the attorney general to seek U.S. court injunctions against violations or threatened violations of voting rights.

3. A special provision—the heart of the final compromise—that a judge shall decide whether a person charged with criminal contempt for violating an injunction

Town in Mourning Over Pit Victims

BOSCOBEL, Wis. (AP)—This quiet river town today mourned the deaths of three sisters who died when tons of dirt buried them in a quarry near Dixon, Ill.

John Gurnsey, 33, said he and his wife Ruth, 31, had slept little since Wednesday, the day their daughters Nancy, 10, Ruthie, 9, and Theresa, 8, disappeared from their temporary trailer home near Dixon.

Scores of volunteers hunted the countryside until someone noticed small footprints at the rim of the pit on Quarry Hill, the quarry which Gurnsey's employers, the H. Turner Construction Co. of Boscobel, had contracted to fill.

The Gurnseys were living in the trailer home about half a mile from the quarry while Gurnsey directed the filling operation. Before dawn Saturday workmen uncovered the three bodies. The dad girls' were sitting with their hands in front of their faces as though trying to fend off the tons of dirt that tumbled upon them.

Gurnsey said he agreed with investigators that the girls apparently were buried by earth and stone pushed down on them by his crew. He said he would not return to Dixon to supervise the rest of the filling job.

Legion Post To Complete Street Fair Plans Tonight

Event to Feature 'Niki' Guided Missile and Rolling Mill Model

COLUMBIANA — Firestone American Legion Post will complete plans at its meeting in the Legion home at 8 p.m. today for the annual street fair and homecoming, Sept. 5-7. The post has sponsored it since 1919.

The big attraction of the "Armored Services" theme, that has been emphasized in recent years, will be a Nike guided missile. This is one of the chief arms of national defense. It will be shown with other military displays. An industrial display will include a miniature rolling mill from the Salem plant of the E. W. Bliss Co.

Displays in the exhibit tent by merchants and manufacturers have been invited in a note to the Chamber of Commerce. There will also be space for booths of the American Legion Auxiliary, Girl Scouts and other civic groups.

James Sitler, program chairman for the meeting of the Rotary Club at the Valley Golf Club at 6:30 p.m. today, will present as the speaker the Rev. W. S. Longworth of the Methodist church. He will tell of his recent trip to Europe.

Kiwanis Club directors will be in session after the club meeting in Pavilion 2 at Firestone Park at 6:30 p.m. today. Eleven members attended an inter-club meeting with the Boardman club Thursday evening. F. C. Heintzelman of the Canfield fair board was the speaker.

Ohio AFL to Hold Annual Convention

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The 72nd annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Labor opens here today with about 80 delegates expected to be on hand.

Although no formal agenda has been drawn up, the group is expected to act on a resolution of withdrawal submitted by the Ohio State Building and Construction Trades Council.

The trades council passed the resolution Friday asking temporary withdrawal until differences between the industrial unions of the CIO and the building trades of the AFL have been settled. The AFL and CIO have a December deadline for their merger.

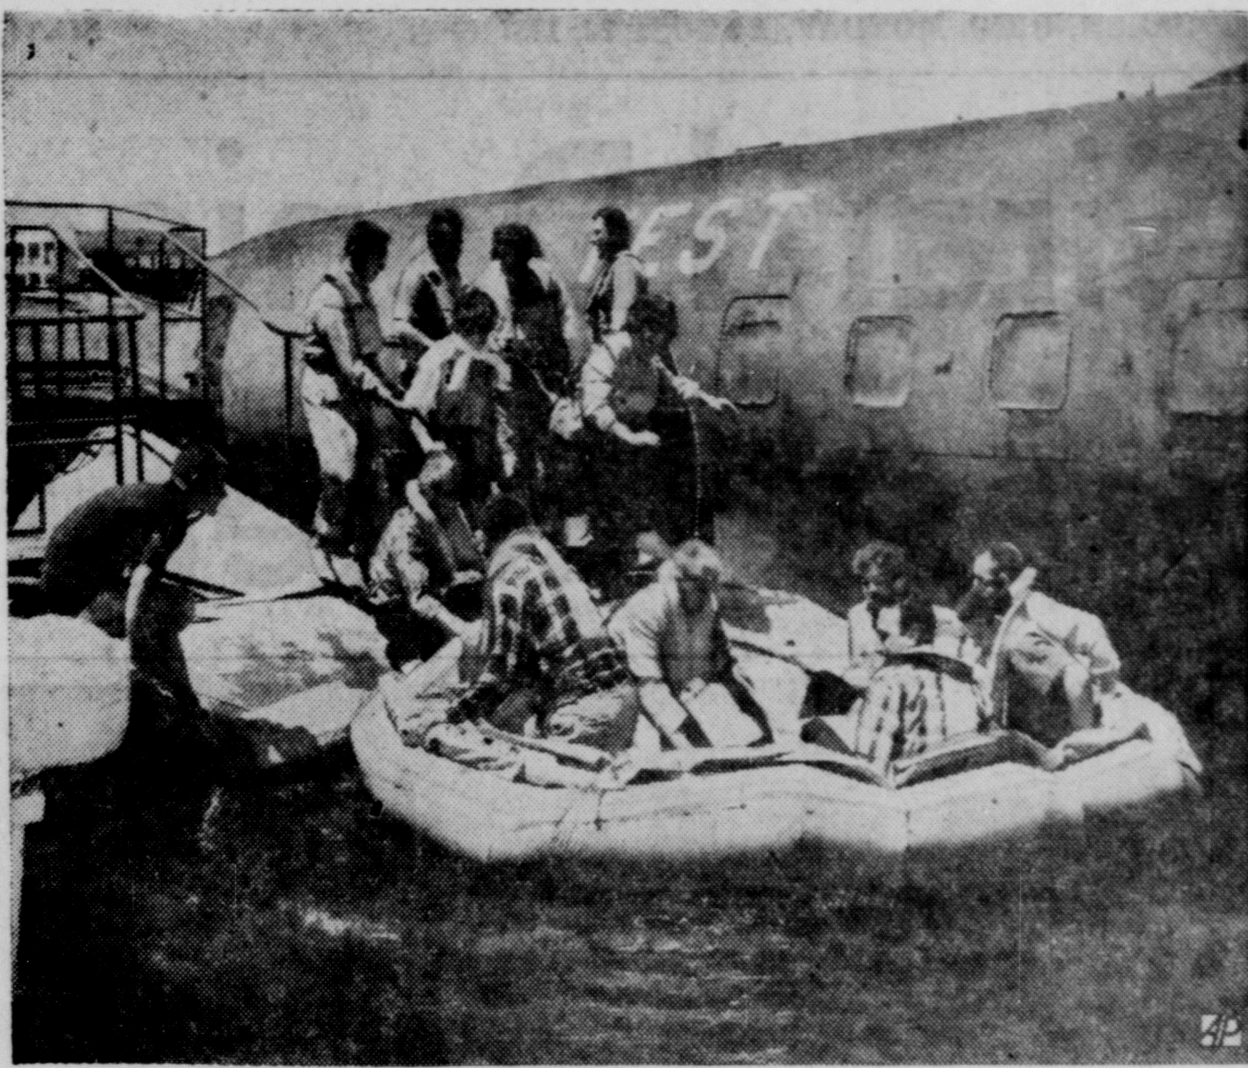

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and a number of labor officials will address the convention.

3 FINED IN LISBON — Three drivers were fined a total of $235 and costs Saturday and Sunday by Mayor Wilbur Warren, and a Canton motorist forfeited a $15 bond when he failed to appear for a hearing.

Fined were: Francis M. Gardner, 36, of Lisbon RD 4, $200 and three days in jail, driving while intoxicated; Frank Johnson Jr., 24, of East Liverpool, $25, driving left of center; and Carl R. Weeks, 53, of Pittsburgh, $10, crossing the yellow line.

Edward George, 31, forfeited the bond on a speeding charge.

Ohio Mishaps Claim 17 Lives Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Seventeen persons died accidentally in Ohio during the weekend, 12 of them in traffic accidents.

Two died in a plane crash, one drowned, a baby choked to death on a toy balloon, and a boy was fatally injured in a fall from a whirling amusement park ride.

An Associated Press survey, which began Friday at 6 p.m. and ended Sunday at midnight showed these fatalities:

Plane Crash Kills 2 Men, Injures Boy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two men were killed and a 9-year-old boy injured Sunday when their private airplane nose-dived into a farm pasture about four miles southwest of nearby Reynoldsburg.

State highway patrolmen identified the dead as James W. Davis, 46, of Kittanning, Pa., the pilot, and Donald Carney Sr., 32, of Vandergrift, Pa. Carney's son, Donald Jr., 9, suffered a fractured right leg and left arm. He was reported in fair condition at St. Anthony Hospital in Reynoldsburg.

The boy told patrolmen that the three left Leechburg, Pa., Sunday morning bound for Cincinnati and a visit with his grandmother, Mrs. Frank Bates.

Officers said the plane apparently became lost in a fog bank.

Woman, 102, Boasts Her Life Has Had Few Dull Moments

McMECHEN, W. Va. (AP)—Mrs. Julia Castlow has only streaks of gray in her brown hair. Her health is good except for rheumatism in her knees and weakening eyesight.

Next Saturday, she plans to celebrate her birthday with "a little doin's." She'll be 102.

Born near Paden City here in West Virginia's northern Panhandle, Mrs. Castlow enjoys chiding today's generation for acting as if "they're all going crazy." She boasts that her own life has had few dull moments.

Mrs. Castlow says she was milking a cow on the family farm as an 11-year-old when Jesse James, en route to Ohio from a West Virginia crime, crawled through the weeds and tried to grab her milk pail. A farm hand frightened him away.

In 1933, she said, she was rescued from a burning apartment by Steubenville, Ohio, firemen. She was carried three stories down a ladder in below-zero weather, clad only in her night gown.

formed Saturday by Dr. Edward Norton. The doctor said Belafonte would remain at the hospital for two to four weeks.

The retinal detachment was attributed to a childhood injury.

Only about 10 per cent of British citizens own cars and refrigerators. Comparable levels in the United States range from 70 to 90 per cent, says Harold F. Lydall, senior research officer of the

If Algeria Falls ---

By VICTOR RIESEL

The Prime Minister of France chain-smoked his cigarettes. But that was the only sign of tension as we talked in a room of an old palace not too far from the Eiffel Tower.

As M. Maurice Bourges-Maunoury spoke I thought of the gay American tourists seeing the sights aware that our own national security was being threatened and that Frenchmen were dying on a far off battlefield for us as well as themselves.

That battlefield stretches across the plains and mountains of Algeria from the North African coast to the Sahara.

"You Americans do not realize that we will have a revolution in France if we lose Algeria," the Prime Minister said very quietly indeed.

"NOT ONLY will we, the leaders of France, lose France; we will, too. The French people will go into the streets as they often have. They will turn out in a fit of revulsion against the West for having let us fight the rebels alone. The French people will turn to the East, to Russia.

"Remember, France cannot be a Switzerland. The French people never have been neutrals. They will not be. They will look to the East." Grim facts fell from his lips like the long ash from the endless cigarettes which he seldom flicked.

Thus he explained the Soviet's role in the Algerian rebellion which so many Americans ignore—as we ignored something called the 38th Parallel in Korea before June 25, 1950. Moscow is playing it cozy, M. Bourges-Maunoury explained.

"The Comintern does not want us to lose too quickly to the Algerian rebels."

"MOWCOW SUPPLIES the rebels with only 20 per cent of their money and weapons. The Kremlin knows it is not yet ready to step into this part of North Africa. It has ordered the Communist party to be quiet there and in France itself. It is not yet ready to stir revolution. So the Communists are quiet. But they are infiltrating the waterfront unions in Algeria. They are building new unions there. And they are waiting their chance in France."

The prize is great, the Prime Minister pointed out.

If France loses Algeria, the West loses all of North Africa. And most of continental—dark Africa, too.

The French will lose big new industries and the Sahara oil fields, new and vast reservoirs which the Prime Minister said could match those of Saudi Arabia and the rest of the Near East.

AND IF THE FRENCH are driven out of North Africa, the British and the Belgians will be forced out of central Africa.

Not only will the French lose great oil reserves which could make them independent from the Near East for fuel, but the Belgians and the rest of the West would lose vast ranium pits.

And that's the stuff that goes into the atomic and hydrogen bombs. And the bombs are what keep Khrushchev barking instead of shooting.

"We want nothing from the Americans but understanding," Prime Minister Bourges-Maunoury said very quietly.

"If it's possible, we'd like it understood that we are not fighting a colonial war."

"If we wanted to kill Algerians, we could arm our 1½ million French people there and there would be slaughter. We want no slaughter. We want a democratic Algeria."

"We are building factories. We are raising wages. Yet we are criticized by representatives and leaders of American labor."

Later, the head of the Premier's Economic Council explained why the Prime Minister believed there might be revolution and why there might never be another free election in France.

I PASS ON these few figures. Count them well.

Count them as closely as your golf score and the number of runs being batted in as the baseball season rolls on to the World Series.

France sells some 30 per cent of its manufactured goods to Algeria. France sends that North African country's people considerable quantities of food. If the Algerians broke away from France and turned east as Syria and Egypt have, Algeria would stop buying here.

At least three million workers would be jobless. That would be catastrophic in a land with 16 million workers in all.

One out of every five families would go hungry. They would tear into the streets to turn out those leaders who told them to count on America.

Then we'd wonder how it hap-

HELL ON WHEELS—The sign on the bumper of this 1957 model car proved a grim prophecy for three youths killed in an early morning crash on the highway near Drakesburg, Ohio. Killed were Columbus W. Lanham, 23, of Windham, Ohio, the driver; Edwin D. Simmons, 20, of Garrettsville, Ohio, and Arthur James Minich, 18, of Windham. Two other youths were seriously injured in the crash. Ohio State Highway patrolmen said the Lanham auto went off the highway, crossed a ditch, hit a slight embankment, flipped around and wrapped itself around the tree. The speedometer was jammed at 92 miles per hour.

Fall Maneuvers

If you are confused about proposals and counterproposals for nuclear testing, you have no better grasp of what is going on in the London Conference of the United Nations Disarmament Subcommittee than the delegates themselves.

It is easy to have the feeling that the delegates are going through blind motions and that all the events of importance in the armament race are happening somewhere else. The atomic site in Nevada, for example or its Russian counterpart in Siberia. Important nuclear blasts have been set off in both places in the last few days.

These blasts, characteristic of the new era of atomic fission and fusion, are reminiscent of something that happened long before the era began.

It was called a military exercise then. It reached a climax each year in the fall maneuvers of the major military powers.

These were trials of all weapons in being and experiments with weapons coming into being. Soldiers, sailors and airmen were tested under all conceivable conditions. Strategists, tacticians and field officers were tested. Observers from allies and even the potential enemy were present by invitation to judge for themselves—a precautionary move if, as usually was the case, the maneuvers proved the nation staging them was armed to the teeth and spoiling for a fight.

Sometimes, the maneuvers developed directly into war. That happened in 1939 when the Nazis maneuvered into Poland and started World War II. But more often, they were autumn warm-ups for war that began the following spring as soon as the ground dried and the days lengthened.

If the resemblance between atomic testing and fall maneuvers is distasteful, it explains why the disarmament talks in London are continuing. Militarists in every nation are aware of a distasteful resemblance, too—and it must scare them stiff.

Rabble Riots

Whether it happens in Clinton, Tenn., Chicago, Ill., or Levittown, Pa., where it has been happening the last few days, a race riot has a common characteristic that explains why the riots occur.

They are made to occur. Persons with no personal responsibility for the consequences instigate them. The Levittown incidents, for example, were as offensive to many of the neighbors of the Negro family which had moved into the town as they were to objective observers. In the first of the two Levittowns, in New York, Negro families bought houses and took up residence with no trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Myers Jr. of Levittown, Pa., had talked with their neighbors before moving into their new house. They were cordial to the newcomers. The Myerses previously had lived in a similar community, where they got along amicably with white neighbors. Both were college graduates; both were aware of the problem of race relations and the importance of establishing good personal relations with the whites who were to be their neighbors.

Their precautions were of no avail. The rabble that assembled to throw stones and fight with the police came from afar. Its members had no personal responsibility for their acts. Their prejudice was as impersonal as that of a pack of wolves, which is a common characteristic of race riots.

Art of Cat-Skinning

The Syrians, too, may have a saying that there is more than one way to skin a cat. They are now witnessing a demonstration.

The Eisenhower doctrine for the Middle East states that the United States is prepared "to use armed forces to assist any such nation or group of nations against armed aggression from any country controlled by international communism."

Syria is about to be controlled by international communism, according to present indications. But this is not happening because of the use of armed forces. It is happening as the result of political intrigue in a part of the world where devious diplomacy is standard procedure.

Once Syria came under Communist control, the next target for the Kremlin-directed drive to discredit the Eisenhower doctrine would be Jordan. Egyptian and Syrian leaders are supposed to want to carve up Jordan between them.

At that point, if armed forces came into use, the Eisenhower doctrine would come into effect. But if there were no military aggression — if Jordan also were victimized by political intrigue — the Middle East cat would have been skinned in a way that would make the Eisenhower administration's Middle East doctrine of no avail. Jordan already has refused economic aid offered under the Eisenhower doctrine.

That Itch To Travel

By CHARLES BARTLETT

Congressmen Have Cut-Rate 'Magic Carpet'

The itch to travel breaks into a rash in Washington at this time of year and the soothing lotions available to members of Congress include a wide variety of free and semi-free transportation to every part of the world.

Domestic rail and air carriers are restrained by law from providing special rates to congressmen but one steamship line, the federally subsidized United States Lines, offers first class berths to Europe for members at the tourist rate.

This means that a senator or representative can get first class accommodations to Southampton, which cost the public from $300 to $525, for the tourist rate of $197. Since the privilege applies to the members and their immediate families, the savings can be substantial on a family trip.

A SPOESMAN for the line in Washington said that nobody expects members of Congress is given this courtesy and that this has been the practice for some time.

The concession is somewhat unusual in that the federal government participates substantially in the cost of constructing and operating ships of the United States Lines under a subsidy program designed to maintain an adequate merchant marine under the U.S. flag.

In the case of the United States Lines, the government paid some 44 1/2 million dollars of the construction cost of 80 million. The ship is available for conversion as a troop carrier in event of war.

To the line as a whole, the government has paid operating subsidies amounting to some $3,085,562 for passenger service since 1948 and $3,270,981 for cargo subsidies since 1948.

This operating subsidy is designed to equate the difference in cost of operation under the U.S. flag as against the lower costs that would be possible if the ships were registered in another nation such as Panama.

The Maritime Commission will not disclose the annual amount of subsidy to the United States Lines except for the year 1954 when the total federal payments for both passenger and cargo service amounted to $18,375,239.

THESE OPERATING subsidies are approved by Congress as part of the Commerce Department appropriations each year and so the company is actually in the position of according favored treatment to government officials whose decisions play a large role in the company's economic position.

The attraction of these rates is restricted however to those members who are going abroad solely for pleasure because the government offers a wide choice of free transportation to those whose mission bears even the faintest of official stamp.

The sole requirement is a request by the chairman of the individual's legislative committee for transportation. If it can be asserted that the member's wife would be an asset to him in the execution of his foreign responsibilities, the Defense Department will approve transportation for her too.

If sufficient members of a committee are headed for the same place, the Air Force will provide them with a private plane from the military Air Transport Service but if they are traveling singly or in small groups, they will go on the regularly scheduled MATS flights.

The chairman of the congressional committee has the option of providing transportation on commercial lines from committee funds, a technique used extensively on domestic junkets.

THE ENTHUSIASM of the Air Force for this congressional passenger service has been somewhat mitigated by the order of Congress, in defense appropriation bills of the past two years, that the use of transport aircraft should be limited to the essential of military security. The directive, whose purpose is to inhibit the purchase and operation of plush military transport planes, urges the Defense Department to make use of commercial airlines whenever it is economically feasible.

Nevertheless the Air Force and the Department of Defense decline to make public the congressional use of military aircraft and refer questions about such use to the committee staffs on the grounds that their function is simply that of providing the transportation. On a similar basis the Defense Department offers ship passage for members of Congress and their wives aboard the Navy's transport fleet.

The travel bug is catching and even reporters find avenues for members of the executive branch, secretaries to congressmen and economic trips.

A VERY COMMON executive device is to go abroad on federal business and then take a vacation before returning home on a government voucher. Thus Herbert Brownell, the attorney-general who went abroad in July to participate in the London meetings of the American Bar Association, is still traveling in Europe and Fred Seaton, the secretary of interior whose jurisdiction includes Hawaii, has gone off to that island.

The congressional secretaries find it cheap to travel in groups to such places as Miami or Mexico City, where hotels and local interests combine to impress them as favorably as possible. Some 74 congressional secretaries will fly to Miami on Sept. 6 for seven days and six nights of vacation for a total cost of $108 apiece. There they will be feted at parties given by such groups as National Airlines, Pan American Airways, and the Florida Power and Light Co., and taken on sightseeing tours.

Another group will pay $950 apiece for a five-week tour of 10 European countries.

NEWSPAPERMEN are frequently able to get free military transportation in return for the promise of stories on the foreign deployment of the individual service. Other reporters decline such travel on the grounds that the objectivity of their stories may be affected by the courtesies that are extended. Washington in general takes a mixed view of these varied forms of subsidized transportation.

Some maintain that travel is broadening and that any means of getting members of Congress out to see the world is a justifiable expense to the nation. Other assert that the trips are mere joyrides and serve no useful purpose.

A majority leans to the middle position that the privilege of government travel is abused in many instances and extremely worthwhile in many others.

Whatever the judgments, there is every sign of an increasing inclination to regard free travel as a perquisite of government service. That perquisite will be exercised to every country in the world, and even over the North and South Poles, in the months ahead.

Why Insurance Rates Rise

If you wonder what's behind the move when your insurance rates go up as they frequently do these days, you don't have to look far for the answer.

Accidents are mounting both in number and cost. Last year they cost Americans some 11 billion dollars, with about half that sum resulting from automobile mishaps. And some of the 1956 bills still haven't been paid.

Slime insurance companies, and especially fire and casualty companies, suffer stiff losses when heavy claims are presented in great volume. Their profits dwindle and they may wind up in the red.

When this happens, with the approval of the various state insurance commissioners, the companies in general figure out new insurance rates to cover the probable future losses and give them a reasonable profit.

Since they are serving an expanding nation, they must expand to meet the country's insurance needs, and this takes capital. They can't attract it if their earnings are poor.

Some ideas of what's going on can be gained from a quick look at one phase of the problem — rising automobile repair costs. They rose 15 per cent in the year 1955-56 and are up another seven per cent on 1957 car models.

In 1948 you could repair a typical damaged rear fender for $25.75. On a 1957 model it will cost you $136.50. A broken windshield in 1948 could be fixed for $15.90. Today a plain one costs $107 and a tinted job $123.75.

Put together costs like these with the 1956 figure of 10 million motor accidents and you have quite a story. And it tends to take the mystery out of rising insurance rates.

The Voice Of Experience

By RAYMOND MOLEY

If any youngster expects to learn any easy way to riches by reading the first volume of Bernard M. Baruch's autobiography, he will be sadly disappointed. If, on the other hand, he wants to get a few points on how to live usefully and happily, with or without great wealth, he could find no better guide than "Baruch: My Own Story," just published.

For Baruch's unique contribution has been that he found success in remembering a few homely matters that most of us believe are too obvious to bother with.

First and foremost in the Baruch mentality is an exceedingly large amount of caution.

WHEN HE WAS serving as chairman of the War Industries Board in World War I, President Wilson said that Baruch reminded him of an elephant. That large and intelligent animal, so Wilson said, would come to a bridge, stop, and test its strength by trying it with one foot and then another. Then, after some elephantine cogitation, it would say to itself: "It's perfectly safe, all right. But I will wait and let some other animal cross first."

Baruch, in his book, says that Wilson was in the habit of calling him "Dr. Facts," because of his insistence that nothing be decided until all information had been collected and digested.

In those days, when his name first hit the headlines nationally, Baruch was popularly known as a "Wall Street speculator."

With a mind finely adapted to the necessity of good public relations, Baruch insisted, on that occasion and since, on providing his own definition of the word "speculator."

HE WAS, he said, a speculator — but in the philosophical sense. That is a person who cogitated on the meaning of things and drew conclusions and principles from known facts and rational inferences therefrom.

In his book he makes it clear that his success in the market was not due to chance or to mysterious "hunches." It was due to the fact that when he bought or sold securities his decision was based upon a careful examination of the companies involved, the market for their product, the competition which they were likely to encounter, and the other innumerable components which are involved in business success or failure.

Those who might think, because Baruch has had the best "press" of any public figure in his generation, that he has vainly imagined that he could portray himself as a man who never made a mistake will be surprised at the candor of his book.

His shortcomings as a boy and a young man, his mistakes of judgment in the market, which on more than one occasion were catastrophic, he frankly sets forth.

PERHAPS this frankness in facing up to his mistakes is one of the primary reasons for his success. He learned from his errors of judgment and he refused to be intoxicated by his successes.

He has always made it clear to his friends and intimates that he is not as rich as rumor would have it. This, I believe, is altogether true. His worldly assets are not small. But certainly they are far, far less than a person of his talents and habits of circumspection could have acquired in such lush times as he has seen.

This limit has been due to a number of factors. He had the caution and the good sense to realize that mere accumulation is neither wise nor moral nor patriotic. There is in his nature a fine sense of proportion.

Wealth, in his mind, should be in proportion to one's general plan of life, not necessarily in proportion to one's capacity to get rich. Another limiting factor was his love of public service, which took him away from the market to serve President Wilson in the very prime of his life.

He is known as an advisor of many presidents but his abiding affection and admiration has always remained with Wilson. After the Wilson period, his longest and most interesting relationship was with Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This relationship, always marked by outward cordiality, was never warm and intimate.

THERE WERE many reasons for this lack and for the consequent failure of Roosevelt to use Baruch in large official capacities.

One was Baruch's distaste for so many of the policies which Roosevelt adopted. Another was his dislike for so many of the Roosevelt intimates.

But most important was the reason once given to Baruch by a friend who knew both men. Commenting on Roosevelt's failure to call upon Baruch for more important tasks, the friend said, "You are just too luminous a figure."

In short, F. D. R. was more comfortable in the company of men of lesser stature.

Despite Baruch's willingness to serve even under unpleasant conditions, his relations with President Truman ended in a rancorous and boorish attack by the man in the White House.

The high repute in which Baruch is held by Americans has outlived scores of lesser reputations accorded to statesmen who attained offices more eminent than any which he was destined to occupy. That, at 87, is his deserved award.

Rift In the Bamboo Curtain

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

For eight long years the free world has had to rely upon usually inadequate and infrequent accounts of life behind the Bamboo Curtain in Communist China.

Most of these have come from once-imprisoned soldiers, missionaries, traders and the like. Generally untrained as observers, they have seldom been able to give us a penetrating report.

Now at last we will have a chance for a comprehensive and yet probing look at Chinese life after eight years of Red rule.

The State Department is allowing some two dozen American correspondents to enter the country to report what they see.

It goes without saying that the Peiping government is not interested that the American reporters divulge any brutal and embarrassing truths. The Communists will do their level best, as they do in Russia and its satellites, to control what the U.S. newsmen will see.

But perfect control is impossible, of course. And we can be sure that the American reporters who go into China will measure up to the high standard of U.S. journalism — which means they are trained as no others anywhere to dig beneath the surface, to see what was not intended for viewing.

Coupled with the greater freedom now given Western newsmen in Russia and at least part of its satellite orbit, this entry into Red China represents a potentially significant gain in the quest for truth on the vast Eurasian land mass.

It is incredible to think that since 1949 the free world has been virtually blacked out from any steady, sure knowledge about the most populous country on earth.

Now that the barrier is being lowered, at least for the time, we count upon our seasoned news observers to bring us a lively, discerning and full account which will more than make up for all the years of sparse and distorted news about China.

And we count upon them to do it without any stage playing the propaganda game which the Chinese Reds undertook when they invited our reporters to come in.

Plans have flown higher than 19 miles above the earth, but never before has man climbed to such heights in such a way that he could leisurely observe the strange half-world of the stratosphere.

Now Maj. David Simons, an Air Force doctor, has done it. Rising in a small aluminum gondola attached to a tapered balloon, he has for all practical purposes made himself the first true "space man."

From his lonely observation post high in the heavens, he could see the curvature of the earth. The sky around him was black and violet, and stars did not twinkle but instead glowed like animals' eyes. Far, far below he could watch with fascination as lightning ripped through storm clouds.

If the hopes of the builders of rockets and earth satellites are realized, then what Simons saw may one day be a commonplace sight to many in the world.

But at this moment this heretofore unheralded major walks about in the knowledge that he has seen a breath-taking spectacle of this universe that no other man living or dead has ever witnessed.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Uncle Sam and Nation's Songs

Government is in just about everything, and now there are resolutions in Congress to "authorize the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce to investigate the censorship of songs by TV and radio stations."

The airwave stations have been eliminating such words as "darkies" and "mammy" from Stephen Foster melodies to avoid racial slurs.

Some southern legislators are crying, "You can't do this to Stephen Foster." and a Massachusetts congressman wants "Who Threw the Overalls in Mistress Murphy's Chowder" barred from the air as insulting to the Irish.

The days when there was less sensitivity to such things, when a sense of humor covered "a multitude of tunes" and when all races could gather together and laugh at songs and jokes at their expense are no more.

A SONG "I Made A Fool of Myself Over John Foster Dulles" is being assailed by some folks as a slur on the U.S. State Department.

U.S. officials are reported fearing numbers entitled "I Could Have Danced All Night With Harold Stassen," "Standing on the Corner Watching the McClellan Committee Go By" and "The Street Where Kefauver Lives." It's a touchy age.

WE MAY ONE DAY find "Home Sweet Home" opposed by the United States Hotel Men's Association, "When You Were Sweet Sixteen" fought by the Mothers Club, "Casey Jones" battled by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and "He Would Row, Row, Row" bitterly assailed by the Outboard Motor Manufacturers, Inc.

Can "Kiss Me Again" be completely approved by the American Medical Association? How do workers on the 6 a.m. shift feel about "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning"?

THIS CORNER thinks Stephen Foster meant no disrespect in his ballads, but can see that the colored people have a point in their objections.

There were long years when "Who Threw the Overalls?" brought not protests and when the Irish themselves never wanted Harrigan & Hart boiled in oil for "Lanigan's Ball," "Down Went McGinty," "Throw 'Em Down McCluskey," "The Mulligan Guards" or "The Widow Nolan's Goat."

But these are days when laughs that could offend a race are not popular, which is fair enough.

The only reason, if any, for alarm is the fear of what may happen to famous songs in general if any Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee gets into the act.

ONCE THE GOVERNMENT through any agency starts making rules in the musical world "Two for Tea" can be censored as injuring the coffee growers, "Oh, Promise Me" rewritten on complaint of bill collectors, and "All Alone by the Telephone" remodeled by request of Western Union.

The line "Hand me my rose and my glove" from "People Will Say We're in Love" could be fought by the chrysanthemum and dahlia interests and "Dancing in the Dark" opposed All Here" completely forbidden by the Juvenile Delinquency Board and the Police Chiefs' Association.

GOOD GRAMMAR has not been served too much in the questioning of Fifth Amendment hoodlums before that McClellan committee, several repeatedly saying, "I refuse to answer on the grounds it might INTEND to incriminate me," and one, "I refuse to answer on the grounds it might INTEND TO DISCRIMINATE me."

Walter Reuther says that if the big auto makers will promise to cut at least $100 from the price of each 1958 auto he will agree to be extra reasonable in wage demands. . . . The trouble is that both sides list truthfulness, candor and complete unselfishness as "extras."

Problems with Children

The parents of small children often have similar problems and I am sure many readers will recognize one asked by a distracted mother.

She writes that she has two small children who seem to be healthy, but she has great trouble in getting them to bed at night and keeping them there.

They protest at being sent to bed, and once they get there they usually climb out two or three times or disturb their parents by asking for a glass of water, or the like.

I have never known of a healthy youngster who did not behave in this way. I suppose a child is afraid of missing something and perhaps also wants to make sure of the love, attention and affection of its parents. It is true that by threats and cajolery most children can be put to bed at approximately the time the parents think they should go. Once in a while the child will be good as gold about this if Christmas is coming or some other favor expected.

Parents should decide on a pretty definite routine of going to bed for their youngsters and should try to stick with it. If the child thinks that bed at 8 p.m., for example, is inevitable he will usually accept it. On the other hand, if the youngster thinks he can get around the parents and have a later time for bed-going and get away with it, he will surely try.

Another problem which is not a common one comes from Mrs. M. D. She asks for a discussion of spina bifida.

This is a congenital anomaly or defect in one of the vertebrae of the back. The contents of the spinal canal may protrude through the involved area with serious effects. It is said to occur in about once in 1,000 births, but a high proportion of infants born with this condition die within the first year of life.

Because of its nature, early diagnosis is easy. The treatment, if that is possible, is by surgery.

Another question which probably involves surgery comes from a grandmother who says that her grandchild is normal and healthy in every way except that he was born with his ears lopped. One's appearance in life is extremely important so that in a situation of this sort one would have to consider the possibility of plastic surgery to improve the appearance of the ears.

Now to a common parental problem. Mrs. W. says that her 14-year-old son has a habit of contracting the muscles in his jaw and neck and moving his shoulders about. She wonders if this could be a sign of something serious.

Children often develop twitches of this kind. They are called tics, or habit spasms, and do not carry any dangers to life or health. However, they sometimes persist into adult life so that an effort should be made with medical assistance to try to get rid of this type of twitching.

Yacht Garage Sails Into Cincinnati Right on Schedule

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 40-ton "yacht garage" has pulled into port here right on schedule from Pittsburgh with its two captains—Clifford Crain and Ronald Foster, both 17.

The two youths arrived Sunday night headed for Madison, Ind., with the lumbering u-shaped craft under the power of two outboard engines.

The purpose of the trip is a little sketchy. The two Huck Finns took the trip as a lark with some hope of pay from a man they know only as "Mr. Sealy."

Sealy apparently bought the waterborne garage in Pittsburgh for harbor of his boat at Madison. The boat, 55 feet long and 26 feet wide, draws about a foot and a half of water. The boys have poured 500 gallons of gas and 140 quarts of oil getting this far since Aug. 11.

They figure to reach Madison by Tuesday.

The youth's equipment is as modest as the power plant. For tools: a screwdriver and a pair of pliers. For first aid: a box of bandages and a bottle of mercuriochrome. For food: a few loaves of bread and some cans of soup and beans.

And the log kept by the two captains shows the down river voyage has not been without incident:

"We nearly ran over the lock at Dam Seven."
"Borrowed some corn from a farmer's field. Not too good."
"Almost ran over a yacht at Gallipolis."

Mother of Beaten Girl Faces Charge

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A mother is to be charged formally today with the beating of her 14-year-old daughter whose skull was fractured, an assistant Hillsborough County prosecutor said.

Herbert Goldberg said a warrant charging Mrs. Doris Jean Worthington, 38, with assault and battery would be filed. He said Mrs. Worthington is accused of beating Hope Laverne Brown, who is vacationing here from Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Worthington, a former circus trapeze performer, denies she struck the girl.

Goldberg said the girl contends the mother struck her after an argument about going out with boys. The girl said she was struck three times on the head.

He added that when Mrs. Worthington realized the extent of the injuries she told the girl to tell police that she had been followed home from a drive-in where she had been for soft drinks.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) says he believes the bi-partisan compromise on the civil rights bill is "a compromise with principle" but adds that he does not know how he will vote on the measure when it comes up for a vote in the Senate, probably this week.

The compromise, he said, would give federal judges discretion in calling a jury in contempt cases involving voting rights. A jury trial would be compulsory, however, if the penalties exceed $300 fine or 45 days imprisonment.

Lausche said in a TV-radio interview (NBC Meet The Press) Sunday that the measure, as it left the house, was "mere compromise with principle," and added:

"You can't change a right on the basis of degree."
Asked, however, if he will oppose the bill, Lausche replied: "Well, I don't know."

Union, Firm Seek To Head Off Phone Equipment Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 23,000 telephone equipment workers remained on the job in 43 states and the District of Columbia today as union and management negotiators sought to head off a threatened strike.

A one-year contract between the Western Electric Co., manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System, and the installers' unit of the Communications Workers of America expired last midnight.

However, after daylong negotiations Sunday, the union announced that it was withholding strike action until at least after today's scheduled meeting.

The dispute centers over wages, for wage boosts ranging from 4 to 9 cents an hour.

The union is seeking a 16-cent hourly wage hike in addition to 6 cents an hour in other benefits. Wages now range from $1.39 to $2.38 an hour, generally, although a merit scale in some sections of the country places the top pay at $2.80.

Mrs. Eddie R. Linger

First Christian Church Scene Of DeJane-Linger Nuptials

Miss Sandra Lee DeJane and Cpl. Eddie Ralph Linger exchanged their marriage vows in a double ring ceremony performed at 3:00 p.m. Sunday in the First Christian Church.

The nuptials were solemnized by Rev. Larry R. Wigal, pastor of the Phillips Christian Church. Vases of pink and white carnations, palms and ivy enhanced the chancel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter DeJane of 542 E. School St. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Linger of 791 Prospect St. are the bridegroom's parents.

The organist, Mrs. Ruth Berry, accompanied Mrs. Peggy Heim who sang "True Love," "Walk Hand In Hand" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of nylon tulle. The fitted lace bodice was designed with a scalloped neckline and brief sleeves with which she wore elbow length lace mitts. The bouffant skirt was accented with inserted rows of lace.

Lace trimmed her fingertip veil of illusion which fell from a tiara of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She wore a pearl neck-less and earrings, gifts from the bridegroom. Her white Bible was topped with an orchid entwined with Stephanotis and white streamers.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Judy Sell. Her gown of maize taffeta was fashioned with a scoop neckline, brief sleeves and flared skirt. A bow and streamers of contrasting maize complemented the creation.

Appearing in gowns of light blue taffeta styled identically to the matron of honor's were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Pat Riley, sister of the bride, Mrs. Pat Krepps and Miss Betsy Rice.

The junior bridesmaid, Miss Lezlie Linger, was similarly gowned in lilac taffeta.

The attendants carried colonial bouquets and wore white hats, gloves and shoes.

Dee Jayne Sell, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her white dotted swiss dress was trimmed in pink satin ribbon. She carried a basket of flower petals.

Donald Riley, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Donald DeJane, brother of the bride, James Irey and Richard Linger, brother of the bridegroom. The ring bearer was Twing Douglas DeJane.

A gray lace over pink satin dress, navy accessories and a pink and white carnation corsage were worn by Mrs. DeJane. Mrs. Linger chose a black and white lace dress with black accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations.

A pink and white color theme was used at the reception in the church parlors. The four-tiered square wedding cake was decorated with pink rosebuds and topped with a bridal figurine.

Serving were Miss Bobbie Lou Wilms, Miss Carolyn Paxson, Miss Helen Potter and Mrs. Mildred Martell, aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Jean DeJane, sister-in-law of the bride, registered the 250 guests from Salem, West Virginia, Virginia, Greenford, Washingtonville, Lisbon, Youngstown, Girard, Pittsburgh, Canfield and Canton.

The couple are graduates of Salem High School. Mr. Linger is stationed with the U.S. Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune, N.C. Virginia Beach and the southern states were the couple's honeymoon destination. For traveling Mrs. Linger wore a gray sheath with black patent leather accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The newlyweds will temporarily reside with the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sell of 1464 Buckeye Circle. The rehearsal dinner was held Friday night at the home of the bride's parents.

Initiation Scheduled By Job's Daughters

Job's Daughters will hold initiation at the Sept. 4 meeting in the Masonic Temple. Plans were announced at the Aug. 21 meeting. Margaret Hanna, queen, presided. A report was made on a picnic held Aug. 7 at the Country Club, and plans were made for a benefit.

A hayride was suggested for September's outing. Sandy Eyster, chairman, will be assisted by Mary Ann Petras, Carol Linder and Janet Thomas, in planning the affair.

Mrs. Oscar Edward Sundstedt

Miss Nancy Bailey Becomes Bride of Oscar E. Sundstedt

Using the double ring ceremony, Miss Nancy Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Nelson Bailey of E. 4th St. and Oscar Edward Sundstedt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Elwyn Sundstedt of Flint, Mich., pledged their marriage vows Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

Officiating at the service in the First Methodist Church were Rev. George Beebe of Norwalk, Norwalk district superintendent and former pastor of the local church, and Rev. William Snowball, pastor.

The chancel was lighted with tapers in twin seven-branch candelabra, and the altar was banked with palms and grape ivy. Between matching vases of white gladioli and asters, an open Bible was placed at the base of the cross on the altar.

Marshall P. Bailey of S. Lincoln Ave., uncle of the bride, was organist. His selections included "Invocation" from "Marriage Mass," "My Heart Ever Faithful," "Clair de lune," "Serenade in B-Flat Minor," "Bridgroom of Our Soul," "At the Altar," and "Benediction Nuptiale" from "Marriage Mass."

The wedding procession, "Wedding Tones," was composed by Marshall Bailey, and the recessional, "Recessional for Wedding," was composed by Lawrence Taylor, a roommate of the bride groom.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride wore a gown of sheer organza. Lace applique embroidered with sequins and seed pearls enhanced the neckline of the fitted bodice. The trim was repeated on the panel skirt which ended in a brush train.

A lace tiara adorned with sequins held in place the fingertip veil of silk illusion. The wedding bouquet was a sheaf of white roses.

Mrs. Ben Bailey of Columbus, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Fowler of Flint, Mich., Miss Dorothy Fisher of Jackson, Mich., and Miss Kay Kuhl of Salem.

The attendants wore white chiffon waltz-length gowns in a sleeveless style with fitted bodice and full skirt. A contour panel of matching white satin, accented the open curve of the neckline and formed a cummerbund at the waistline continuing to the back bow. They carried sheaves of deep red gladioli and wore glamelias of the same color in their hair.

Harry Wheeler of Flint, Mich., was best man. The bride's brother, Ben Bailey of Columbus, Leroy Schaberg of Lansing, Mich., and Dwan Mitchell of Grand Rapids, Mich., ushered.

Mrs. Bailey wore a street-length dress of mauve lace styled with a V-neckline, brief sleeves and a slim skirt. Her purse corsage was of light pink asters.

The bridegroom's mother wore an Alice blue cantilly lace dress with navy blue accessories, and her purse corsage was fashioned of white asters.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall at the church. The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth with a border of hand drawn work. The heirloom belonged to the bride's maternal great-grandmother.

Ivy and white wedding bells formed a background for the table which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake that was decorated in pink and white. White glad florets topped the cake and were used with ivy as a garland at the base of the cake. Mrs. Marshall Stanfield, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Kay Farrall and Miss Janice Groves served.

Health Head Doubts Reds Started Flu

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Leroy E. Burney, U.S. surgeon general, said today the presence of Asiatic flu in this country is not the start of germ warfare by the Communists.

"Is there any possibility that the Communists have planted these germs?" Burney was asked in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report, a weekly news magazine.

"No," he replied. "I don't believe that is a possibility. We have epidemics occasionally and have had them in the past."

"Could the entry of Asiatic flu into the United States have been prevented?" he was asked.

"No," Burney replied. "In the first place, there are many unapparent infections. In other words, you may have the influenza virus—carrying it around here now, and I couldn't detect it in you. That's No. 1."

"No. 2—There are about 1,800 people who disembark on the West Coast from the Pacific areas every day from planes, ships and otherwise. You can carry the virus and there's no way of detecting who has it and who doesn't have it."

Burney, asked whether he was quite certain the disease was going to come in epidemic proportions in this country, said: "Yes, on the basis of experiences with past epidemics and with its tremendous spread thus far throughout the world."

Burney estimated there are now 20,000 to 25,000 cases in the United States and that between 25 to 34 million persons ultimately may be affected.

"Would you say an individual should be alarmed about the outlook for Asiatic flu?" he was asked.

"No," Burney said. "As long as the virulence of the strain does not change—the disease does not become more severe—I think the individual does not have too much of a problem. I think the tremendous impact upon our community life and economy, by having a 15 to 20 per cent attack rate, is the important part."

County 4-H Group On Way to State Fair

LISBON — Twenty-four Columbiana County 4-H youths, winners in the County Selection Day, and the 44-piece county 4-H Band will participate Tuesday in the state fair at Columbus.

The group left Lisbon this afternoon aboard two special busses and will return tomorrow evening. Adults in the party are Don Myers and Julia Shank, extension agents in charge of county 4-H work, and Karl Meinhardt, Leetonia High School band director, who also directs the 4-H band.

Selection day winners will compete in their respective fields at Columbus. The group includes one boy, James Skeels of Lisbon RD 4, county 4-H health winner.

Others are: Krispen Moore, East Liverpool RD 2; JoDale Kilbreath, Salem; Nancy Ward, Salem RD 1; Terry Miller, Salem RD 2; Jackie Hippiely, Kathy Hrovatic, Betty Jo Hawkins and Rose Marie Ludwig, Salem RD 3; Kathy Groves, Salem RD 4; Judy Hartman, Lisbon RD 1.

Reuther to Press Plan To Fight Inflation

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther says he will press his inflation-fighting plan to cut 1958 car prices at least $100 despite the fact that the auto industry's Big Three have rejected it.

Reuther says he plans to issue his own analysis early this week of the reasons given by Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. for turning down his proposal to cut car prices in return for a UAW promise to modify contract demands in mid-1958.

Ford joined GM and Chrysler over the weekend in rejecting Reuther's bid for a joint union-management effort to curb inflation.

Henry Ford II told the United Auto Workers president, in effect, the same thing GM and Chrysler said: "Ford pricing policies are not a subject for collective bargaining."

U.S. Consulate Hasn't Heard From Turncoat

HONG KONG (AP) — An American Consulate spokesman here said today a check of all files shows no correspondence nor information from American turncoat Scott Leonard Rush, 25, of Marietta, Ohio.

Rush's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rush, said Saturday night in Marietta that their son had written them that he has asked the American Consulate in Hong Kong for permission to come here.

Rush said his son had written that the Red Chinese have released him to return home but have refused so far to allow his Chinese wife to accompany him.

"He's had his belly full," said Howard Rush, a construction engineer in Marietta.

Scott Rush chose Red China rather than returning to the United States after his capture in Korea. Since then, his father said, he has been attending a school and working in a textile mill in Xanyang.

Rush quoted from his son's letter: "I'm willing to return providing I can get my wife out of Red China into Hong Kong."

He said his son had not received permission from the Red Chinese for his wife, whom he married last December, to leave with him.

Washington Girl Wins Miss Majorette Title

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) — Miss Cherril Francis, 18, of Sumner, Wash., was crowned Miss Majorette of America Sunday in a competition held at Indian Lake. She competed against 36 other girls from the United States and Canada.

Second in the contest was Miss Ellen Seiffert, 17, of LaGrange Park, Ill., and third was Miss Jennie DiSanti, 17, of Omaha, Neb.

Miss Francis was runner-up in the contest last year. Last year's winner, Miss Gail Ponte of Dearborn, Mich., presided at the contest this year.

Heavy Rain Quells New York Forest Fire

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y. (AP) — Heavy rain today quelled the worst forest fire in New York State in 13 years, after a week-long battle during which the flames blackened more than 3,000 acres of scrub pine.

The area, near the U.S.-Canadian border, was declared "secure."

The hundreds of firemen, volunteers and forest rangers had saved the Village of Altona and many other homes.

About 13,000 people are killed in road accidents every year in Germany.

County Archers Win In Shoot at Canton

LISBON — The Columbiana County Archers won the first place team trophy in the archery shoot Sunday on the field course of the Stark County archers of Canton.

The Seneca Bowhunters of Amsterdam won second. Seven clubs participated in the invitational.

James Cunningham of East Liverpool, a member of the local club, took the first place trophy in the men's handicap division. Robert Talbot, also of East Liverpool, took fourth place in the men's open division as well as fourth in the men's handicap.

Jacqueline Satterfield of East Palestine, a new member of the county club, won the first place women's open trophy.

Ralph Flagan of Lisbon was second in the junior division, with Pat Chamberlain and Dennis Roberts of Lisbon taking fourth and fifth places, respectively.

Ed McKee of Lisbon won a "Twenty Pin," a coveted award of a perfect score of 20 (four bullseyes) on any target of thirty-five yards or more at a registered shoot on an approved course. McKee at the same time became eligible for a similar award offered by the Columbiana County Club for the same feat.

Gary Homen of Lisbon, Walter Gudat of Washingtonville and Richard Palmer of East Liverpool won prizes in the "clout shoot."

Carl and Anna May Rasile of Lisbon won the special awards.

Hurt Climber Saved After Mountain Fall

LONGMIRE, Wash. (AP) — A 32-year-old Bremerton, Wash., mountain climber who shattered a leg in a 12-foot fall into a crevasse high on Mt. Rainier was rescued in a hazardous, 17-hour operation Sunday.

George Sainsbury fell into the crevasse Saturday while attempting to scale the south face of 14,408-foot Mt. Rainier with two companions, Arnold Bloomer, 26, and Ray Barker, 29.

Sainsbury's left leg was fractured twice when he tumbled onto the jagged ice at the bottom of the crevasse at the 8,000-foot level.

Barker hurried for aid while Bloomer lowered himself into the crevasse and made Sainsbury. Olympic area Boy Scout council executive, as comfortable as possible with a sleeping bag and a tiny camp stove. They had food and fuel.

Barker, meanwhile, slipped and scrambled five miles down the mountain and ran another five miles to Mt. Rainier National # Park ranger headquarters here, where a team of 20 rescuers, mostly rangers, was hastily assembled and dispatched to Sainsbury's aid.

The rescue party, after making its tortuous way down the mountain with Sainsbury strapped in a stretcher, was met by Dr. J. T. Turpin of Bremerton, who accompanied Sainsbury in a station wagon to a Bremerton hospital. Turpin said Sainsbury was in surprisingly good condition.

Retired Coast Guard Medical Officer Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rear Adm. Paul M. Stewart, 68, retired chief medical officer of the Coast Guard and a native of Belle Center, Ohio, died Saturday after collapsing at the wheel of his automobile.

Stewart apparently was stricken with a heart attack as he returned to his home here from a country club.

He was graduated from the University of Cincinnati Medical School and was appointed assistant surgeon general of the Public Health Service in 1914. In 1926 he was named head of the Coast Guard Medical Division and served until his retirement in 1952.

Ceramic Tile, Used for 7,000 Years, Increases in Popularity

Ceramic tile is coming out of the bathroom. It's been a fixture there for years, as flooring and wall material. Now it's spreading throughout the house — in living and dining rooms, basements, terraces, foyers and on walls and fireplaces.

Tile has been employed for 7,000 years as a building material but its uses have been somewhat limited. Today it seems to be undergoing a renaissance.

Why? Its increasing range of colors and textures, as well as simpler methods of installing, are credited for its new popularity.

A FIRED CLAY PRODUCT ceramic tile has two qualities which give it merit as a surfacing material: it requires little care and it has esthetic appeal. It's waterproof, colorfast, easily cleaned and durable, and it requires no waxing, polishing, painting or other redecorating.

Tile products come in a wide range of colors, sizes, shapes and textures.

Although its use in dwellings dates back many centuries, not too many do-it-yourself homeowners have been willing to take on the job of installing tile with mortar. It can be a messy job, and one best left for the professional.

The popularity of tile with the average man about the house has been enhanced, however, by an adhesive method of installation. In new construction, the adhesive technique for tile is particularly suited to dry-wall construction. In remodeling, it permits the installation of tile over most existing surfaces in proper condition. The remodeling chore thus becomes less painstaking.

Today's architects, builders and interior designers are making wider use, too, of ceramic tile because of its utility and beauty. One architect, for example, transformed an otherwise uninteresting open brick wall into a conversation piece by mounting on it an intricate and colorful design of tiles. The brick wall thus served as a textured background for a smooth-surfaced painting in tiles.

TILE IS FINDING use as surface decoration for planters and room dividers. Planters and room dividers, of course, are being utilized to achieve the so-called "open planning" and "partitionless definition" of various areas of the home.

Un glazed tile provides a safe and comfortable walking surface. Some homeowners even have made use of glazed tile as a flooring surface, but it's more expensive, it's more easily chipped than un glazed tile and its glassy-smooth surface presents some hazards.

In the modern kitchen, tile goes on surfaces in need of a sanitary, easily cleaned finish. A tiled panel surrounding the range, for example, eliminates the need to redecorate that often-spilled space. Cooking fats and steam stains will not affect the tile. A cloth, dampened in a detergent solution, will restore its brightness. Tile is being used for kitchen drainboards, counters and splashbacks.

IN CHILDREN'S ROOMS tile can serve a useful purpose because its surface is sanitary and the smudges left by small hands on shelves and on windowsills in the children's rooms make paint or varnish jobs unnecessary.

Tiled fireplaces are becoming popular again, too; and in recreation rooms the functional qualities of this material make it highly suitable. Recreation rooms get rough treatment, and tile is tough.

There are three main types of ceramic tile: glazed wall tile, ceramic mosaic and quarry tile.

Glazed wall tile is made from a pre-fired "biscuit" of white clay to which ceramic color glazes are applied and re-fired in kilns. Under the high temperature of the kilns, the color glazes are fused into the white tiles.

Ceramic mosaics generally are un glazed, porcelain or natural clay tiles with color penetrating throughout. They are made in small shapes, usually squares and rectangles, and now come factory-pasted on paper sheets for easy application. Ceramic mosaics are most popular for floors and as coverings for the tops of tables and counters.

Quarry tile often has been called "red tile." Much of it is red but improved manufacturing methods have introduced other colors to this type of tile.

Today's homeowner can buy ceramic tile in about 200 colors. After thousands of years as a fixture in man's dwellings, tile is being used in more and more ways in the smartly designed homes of today.

CIGARETTE BURNS

Before attempting to refinish the part of a table damaged by a cigarette burn, all the charred residue must be removed from the area. This is best done with a single-edged razor blade. The damaged section then must be cleaned with a cloth dipped in denatured alcohol.

LUMBER MATURES SLOWLY Ponderosa pine trees grow 100 to 150 years before they reach saw-timber height. The lumber from these stately trees is easily machined and products manufactured from it can be made to accurate dimensions. It is used for most wood windows and panel doors in the U.S. today.

SPRAY ENAMEL

One new spray enamel comes in 25 decorator colors. A wide variety of designs can be created by combining stencil patterns and using the spray to produce designs.

THIS LUXURIOUS Midwest style ranch achieves effective "zoning" with spacious central foyer channeling traffic directly to service area (left), living area (straight ahead), and sleeping area (right). Large front porch adds grandeur to entrance and rear porches provide as much outdoor living space as large living and dining rooms give to the indoors. The plan covers 1,707 square feet and is HF30AP9604, by Architect Peter S. Hopf, 118-20 Queens Blvd., Forest Hills 75, N.Y.

Quizzing The Gardner Home Repair

Q — Should bearded iris be thinned every year to keep them blooming?

A — A better practice is to dig them up and divide them in July and August about every third year; and replant the strongest rhizomes.

Q — I would appreciate information as to the earliest it would be safe to cut back the foliage on oriental poppies? After they have bloomed the foliage is very unsightly, and the quicker I can cut them back the better my border will look.

A — If you want your poppies to persist, you should allow the foliage to remain until it is well yellowed and beginning to wither. The leaves manufacture food for storage in the root. It is wise to plant the poppies in a place where the dying foliage is hidden.

Q — I applied 2, 4-D on my lawn this spring, but it is still filled with dandelions. Should I use it again?

A — One application of 2, 4-D will not always kill all the dandelions and other broadleaved weeds. Therefore, a second, about two weeks after the first, is often needed. In persistent cases a third may be necessary.

Q — What season is best for transplanting daylilies?

A — Daylilies can be moved at almost any time that the ground is open. The plants can be moved in full flower without harmful effect.

Q — Would you please tell me what commercial product comes nearest to good compost? My city lot is too small for a compost pile.

A — A mixture of peat moss and processed dry manure added to the soil in equal parts will give you a good substitute for compost.

Q — Every summer I like to grow fuchsias in pots on my outdoor terrace, but I find that the buds and flowers tend to drop freely. Can you tell why? Otherwise, the plants are apparently healthy.

A — Over or underwatering generally makes fuchsias drop their buds, so we suggest that you check for that as well as for good drainage. Insufficient light and too sudden changes in temperature will also do this.

Do's And Don'ts

BLEACHING WOOD

DO . . . know that while home-made bleaches are still being used with reasonably good results, the commercial bleaches are easier to handle and more likely to produce uniform lightening of the wood.

DO . . . be certain that the bleach is not applied until all traces of paint or varnish remover have been cleaned off according to the directions on the container.

DO . . . try the trick sometimes used by professionals of staining the wood lighter than necessary, giving it, if possible, even more then using a non-grain raising time than stated on the container.

stain to get precisely the shade desired.

DO . . . in that event, be certain to hold in the stain with a coat of thinned shellac or other sealer before applying the final finish.

DON'T . . . ever attempt to apply bleach over an old finish or you'll ruin the whole project.

DON'T . . . forget to remove all hardware before starting the bleaching process.

DON'T . . . apply the bleach without wearing rubber gloves and taking all precautions to prevent getting any of the chemical mixture on your skin.

DON'T . . . neglect to follow the directions about the length of time to allow the bleach to dry, the wood lighter than necessary, giving it, if possible, even more then using a non-grain raising time than stated on the container.

If Possible, Your Schoolboy Should Have Room of His Own

If you can possibly manage it, will not slow up because he has given your schoolboy a room of his own.

Even if it must be tiny, a haven he can call his own is better for a growing boy than a large room he must share with others.

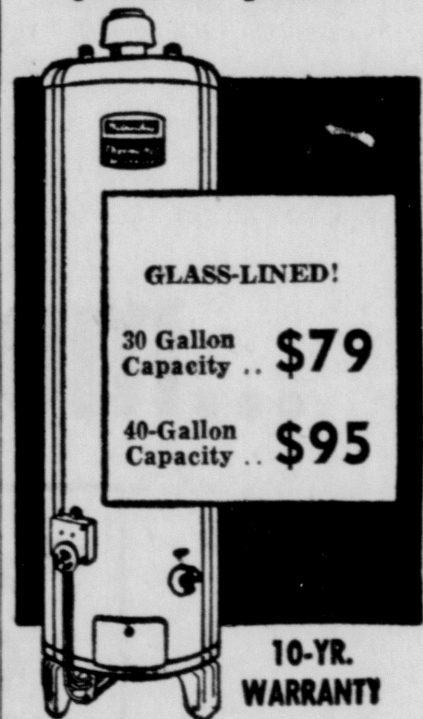

You'll find he'll be a better student if he has a room where he can concentrate on homework, where books may be kept from the groping fingers of younger members of the family.

Keep furnishings on the simple side so that he will be able to tidy up his room. Many new bedspreads have been designed with that idea in mind. A fitted bedspread is ideal. One new one of avisco rayon and cotton has a handsome rough-textured weave that will appeal to a young cowboy, yet it may be tubbed, fluffed and put back on the bed without ironing. Carpeting is a good idea for a small boy's room, because it helps to deaden noise.

Good lighting is important to young eyes. Be sure his desk is near the window and that he has a good lamp for after-dark reading. This will protect his eyes and also make his room look cheerful. A coat tree is a useful and appreciated article in any youngster's room. It's a good place to hang slacks and sports shirts in a hurry, when there just isn't time to arrange everything on hangers. It will keep these items off the bed and chair (and perhaps even the floor).

A GOOD ROOMY CHEST with many drawers can separate articles for easy handling. One new combination chest and desk with a plastic top can stand lots of doodling. He'll like a comfortable chair and a typewriter, if you're looking for that special gift for him. It's a good idea to put an electric clock in a young man's room — one that

Homeowners' Question Box

Q — Is it true that painting the inside walls of a house with a rubber base paint will help keep paint from peeling on the exterior siding? If so, why?

A — Many authorities on condensation agree that a rubber base paint or one with a high varnish content will act as an effective vapor barrier. In this respect, it prevents moisture inside the house from condensing in exterior surfaces. It is this type of condensation which usually causes paint peeling.

Q — The home we're building will have an exposed - beam ceiling following the slight pitch of the roof. Since the underside of the roof deck will be the ceiling, how can we make the roof absolutely free from leaks?

A — The most popular roofing used in today's home construction, asphalt shingles, can be safely applied to roofs with a pitch as low as two inches per horizontal foot. This is made possible by a recently developed "low-slope" method of applying three-tab, square-but strip shingles. Asphalt shingles come in many solid colors and color blends. Even an almost-flat roof is plainly visible from the ground, so that attractive roofing material enhances the overall appearance of the house.

Q — I'm installing plastic tile in a powder room. How can I cut the tile to fit around obstructions?

A — Plastic tile can be cut with a coping saw.

About one third of all passengers between London and Paris travel by air.

Deaths and Funerals

Andrew Herbert

Andrew Herbert, 44, of Garfield Road died enroute to a hospital at 9:15 a.m. Sunday following a heart attack suffered at his home.

Born June 24, 1913 in Salem, he was a son of Michael and Katherine Smith Herbert. He was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

He was graduated from Salem High School in 1932. He was a farmer and a machine foreman employed by the American-Standard Corp.

A member of Perry Lodge, F. & A.M. No. 185, he also was a member of the Auti Grotto and Salem Chapter No. 94 Royal Arch Masons. He belonged to the Elks Lodge, the Saxon Lodge and the Youngstown Kitchens Division Foremen's Club.

He married Wilma Bauman of North Georgetown Jan. 8, 1938. She survives together with two sons, David Nolan and John Andrew, and a daughter, Mary Lou, all at home; his mother, who resides at RD 2, Salem; a brother, Michael of Missoula, Mont.; and a sister, Mrs. John Stefane of Salem.

Service will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Bieber Memorial Funeral Home, with Rev. Richard Froese and Rev. John Bauman officiating.

Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call Tuesday evening at the Memorial, where there will be a Masonic service at 7 p.m. and an Elks service at 9 p.m.

Mrs. Charles Pyle

Mrs. Maggie May Pyle, 78, of Damascus died of complications at 2:15 p.m. Sunday at her home, following a lingering illness.

Born at New Alexander, Sept. 16, 1877, she was the daughter of David and Elizabeth Heitsman Donnelly.

A resident of Damascus for 50 years, she was a member of the Damascus Methodist Church and the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Survivors include her husband, Charles A. Pyle, whom she married Feb. 8, 1896; three daughters, Miss Faye Pyle at home, Mrs. Emil Stanley of Salem and Mrs. Alton Dunbar of Canton; five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. Rachel Shore, died five years ago.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, with Rev. James Cope, pastor of the Damascus Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Damascus Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Charles Olivarez

Mrs. Lois Hoffman Swennington Olivarez, 42, of Los Angeles, Calif., died of complications at 2 p.m. Saturday in a Los Angeles hospital, following several months' illness.

She was born in Salem, Aug. 14, 1915, and was a member of the First Christian Church here. Her first husband, Paul Swennington, preceded her in death.

mentary was read by what veteran radio monitors said was obviously a young American's voice. Forty-one American youths are now in Red China as guests of the government, and 12 American Korean war turncoats also are still on the mainland.

"Fundamentally, the U. S. government is not considering the principle of equality and reciprocity at all, but wants to collect intelligence in China through its correspondents, carry out subversive activities and embitter feelings between the Chinese and American peoples," the broadcast said.

"Keeping to its consistent policy, the Chinese government will continue to work for contacts and mutual understanding between the Chinese and American peoples." The two Western nations that now have reporters permanently stationed in Red China, Britain and France, permit correspondents of the New China News Agency to work in London and Paris.

Officials in Washington said American travel in China because Dulles agreed to lower his bar to of heavy press and congressional pressure. But he was reported unwilling to pay a price of Chinese reporters in the United States in return for getting Americans into China.

Some U.S. officials said the exchange suggestion may have been made primarily for propaganda purposes and might be dropped later.

In New York, the American Society of Magazine Photographers and the National Press Photographers Assn. criticized Dulles' policy because it barred photographers from China.

A joint statement by the two organizations said the limitation to 24 reporters, with no provision for photographers, was "drastic discrimination" and "a serious abridgement of press freedom."

Without the earth's atmospheric pressure — about 18 tons per person — blood would literally boil in the veins of human beings.

Mrs. Alpheus Lehman

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Zorada E. Lehman, 83, of 435 N. Main St. died at 4 a.m. Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John W. Detwiler of RD 1, Columbiana. She had been ill six weeks.

Born in Cedar County, Mo., April 19, 1874, she was the daughter of Joel and Mary Yoder Metzler. On Jan. 24, 1897, she married Alpheus Lehman, who died Feb. 27, 1947.

A life-long resident of this area, she was a member of the Midway Mennonite Church.

Besides Mrs. Detwiler, she is survived by three sons, Carl M. Lehman of Columbiana, Arden Lehman of Greenford, and Floyd Lehman of Buffalo, N.Y.; nine grandchildren; 11 great-grandchildren; a brother, Joe Metzler of Youngstown; and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Blough of Goshen, Ind.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Midway Mennonite Church where the body will lie in state one hour before the service. Burial will be in Midway Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Fry Funeral Home this evening from 7 to 9.

by lot and 42 reporters. Heavy curtains were drawn across the closed windows to prevent photographing into the courtroom.

More than 1,000 Japanese and about 250 newsmen, photographers, newsmen and television men milled around outside the courthouse. Some of the Japanese carried such slogans as "Keep Girard under Japanese custody," "Show the world, give Girard a strictly fair trial" and "Judge! Don't disgrace the pride of the Japanese people."

Three relatives of the dead woman attended the opening session—her 18-year-old daughter Kayoko Sakai and two of Mrs. Sakai's brothers-in-law, Mohei Sakai and Tokotaro Sekiguchi.

Kayoko said her father was at a religious retreat in western Japan and would not attend the trial. She added that she thought the court "is leaning over backward to be partial to the United States and Girard."

Girard's Japanese wife Haru (Candy) was not in the courtroom. Hayashi said he told her to stay away because many Japanese felt the marriage last month was in bad taste.

The soldier was brought to the court in an Army motorcade from Camp Drew, 30 miles away, and was turned over to Japanese jurisdiction for the first time. He was returned to the Army's authority at the end of the day's session and was whisked back to camp.

Girard sat alone on a gray, leather-covered bench as the prosecutor read the official indictment accusing him of throwing empty cartridge cases to entice Mrs. Sakai and other Japanese brass pickers closer to him.

Minutes later he stood before the high paneled bench, a package of cigarettes protruding from the hip pocket of his khaki summer uniform, to identify himself and answer the charge.

Judge Kawachi warned Girard that his answers to questions would become part of the evidence in the case and advised him that "you can maintain complete silence from beginning to end."

After hearing the indictment read in Japanese and in English, Girard told the court he had nothing to say. But after a hasty conference with Hayashi he returned to the half-circle witness stand and declared: "The facts in the indictment are not correct. . . I did not throw brass or lure anyone."

"I did not intend to hit anybody. I was doing my job of protecting a machine gun. . . I fired over their heads to scare people, not to hurt them."

The prosecution gave this version of what happened:

Girard and S.Sgt. Victor N. Nickel were assigned to watch some Army equipment during a recess in the target practice.

When Mrs. Sakai and other Japanese started to pick up shell casings, Girard told her and Hidesugu Ozaki in Japanese, "Old ma, old woman, okay." He then fired an empty cartridge which missed Onozaki's feet and the latter fled.

Then, as Mrs. Sakai approached, Girard ran toward her shouting, "Get out of here." Holding the rifle in his right arm he fired a blank at her from a distance of 25 feet and she fled.

The defense attorney said the soldier had hoped to warn away the shell pickers with an "unusual noise" produced by firing the blank casings.

Reports Stress A-Fallout Peril

Senate Unit, Experts Point Up Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The peril of atomic fallout has been emphasized again in separate reports from opposite ends of the nation. In Washington Sunday the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee released a cautiously worded summary of testimony suggesting that continuance of nuclear tests at present rates could endanger future generations.

In Palo Alto, Calif., a group of experts said the peril point could be reached in 1970, and may already have been reached in some parts of the world.

The reports pointed up the continuing controversy over the known and unknown dangers of fallout—the deadly shower of radioactivity thrown out by nuclear explosions.

Members of the American Institute of Biological Science, meeting in Palo Alto, said American, British and Russian nuclear tests now are spreading about 10 million tons of radioactive material over the earth every year.

The figure was given by Dr. H. Bentley Glass, a Johns Hopkins University geneticist, in a news conference in which several other specialists participated. Dr. Curtice L. Newcombe, of the Navy Radiological Defense Laboratory in San Francisco, said it has been calculated that about 50 million tons of fallout material has been released in U.S. bomb tests to date.

Newcombe said it also has been calculated that 70 million tons is the theoretical safety limit.

The congressional committee's report was hedged with many scientific reservations expressed in conflicting testimony taken in fallout hearings last May and June.

The committee expressed reservations about the limits of human resistance to radioactive strontium, one of the most dangerous elements in atomic fallout. The committee said there is no such thing as a "clean" nuclear weapon—a subject of some discussion during the hearings.

Administration spokesmen and some scientists have said the United States can produce an absolutely clean weapon—one without fallout—if testing continues for four or five years.

The committee report said, however, that much could be done to control the amount of radioactivity produced in a nuclear explosion.

Rights

shall be tried by himself, or by a jury.

If the judge tries the case himself and levies a penalty of more than 45 days in jail and a $300 fine, the defendant would have the right to a new trial before a jury. The maximum penalty for such injunction violations would be six months in jail and $1,000 fine.

Under the compromise, civil contempt cases would be tried without a jury. Criminal contempt proceedings are those designed to punish violations of court orders. Civil contempt cases are aimed at getting compliance.

The compromise also is expected to include a section making clear that a ban, backed by criminal penalties, on releasing testimony received by the investigating commission in closed-door session does not apply to newsmen.

Vice President Nixon said it is important to get a civil rights bill passed because of the impact on peoples in Africa, Asia and the Middle East. He said there are a billion of these people who he contended would have a decisive part in the struggle for world freedom.

Nineteen junior-size shredded wheat biscuits; 1 (6 oz.) pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces; ¼ cup honey; 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; ½ cup chopped nuts.

In top of double boiler, combine chocolate pieces, honey and butter. Heat over hot water, stirring occasionally, until chocolate melts. Stir in nuts. Dip junior size shredded wheat in chocolate until cereal is completely coated. Arrange in greased 8-in-square cake pan. Chill thoroughly. Separate each cereal bar with knife. Makes 19 bars.

GROUP TO LEAVE PEIPING

LONDON (AP)—The 41 young Americans visiting Red China will leave Peiping Thursday for a four-week tour of the country. Reuters, the British news agency, reported from the Chinese capital today. They will return to Peiping at the end of September, to attend the Oct. 1 national day parade before returning home.

Ike's Friend Seeks Vacant Senate Seat

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A friend of President Eisenhower's, former Republican Gov. Walter Kohler, and liberal Democrat William Proxmire will meet in a special election Tuesday for the remainder of the U.S. Senate term of the late Joseph McCarthy.

Their extensive campaigns have failed to produce heated interest in the election which observers believe will be decided by less than 500,000 of the state's 2 1/2 million eligible voters.

The victor will serve the remaining 16 months in the term of McCarthy, who died in Washington May 2 of a liver ailment. His controversial record has not entered into campaigning by major candidates.

Three independent candidates have entered the race. They are Mrs. Georgia Cozzini, a Milwaukee housewife; Douglas J. Wheaton, a 32-year-old steamfitter from Kaukauna; and Howard Boyle, a Milwaukee attorney.

The campaign efforts of all three have been limited and only Boyle was given a chance of becoming a factor in the balloting. Calling himself a "Joe McCarthy Republican," Boyle has asserted, "The election of either Mr. Kohler or Mr. Proxmire would be a repudiation of the late Joseph McCarthy."

Kohler, three-time former governor, has staked his campaign to solid support for the Eisenhower administration. He was the only candidate in the seven-man Republican primary to do so.

Running with the endorsement of labor, Proxmire has blamed the Eisenhower administration for increases in the cost of living, the decrease in the number of small business firms and the critical state of its farm and foreign policies.

know of that would justify any big reductions," Holland said.

Even if the Senate should approve a three-billion-dollar allotment, this would almost certainly be reduced in a subsequent compromise with the House. Some Democrats have predicted the final new money figure is likely to be no more than $2,800,000,000.

Vice President Nixon conceded last night there has been some waste in the foreign aid program. But he said the Eisenhower administration wants to "get rid of the waste."

He said that "as a result of the congressional attitude toward this program, the administration is at this very time examining the operation of these programs all over the world to seek ways in which we can do it with less money than we have been doing it in the past."

However, Nixon defended the over-all program, saying that because of it "we see the United States in a free world today in a stronger position than we have ever been since World War II."

Bessie Kennodle, of Robbins, N.C.; Rev. Jack W. Tebbis of Achilles, Va.; Rev. Russell Zinn of Sebring, Rev. E. W. Langley of Boston Heights, O., and Rev. Douglas Jones of Deerfield.

"Let Us Rise Up and Build and the God of Heaven Will Prosper Us" was the sermon subject of Ore., at the Saturday evening service. Rev. Gerald Dillon of Portland, Ore., "Everyman take heed how he will build, and build on the foundation of Christ," Rev. Dillon warned.

The choir sang two selections, and Rev. Amos Henry of Malone College, former Damascus Friends Church pastor, gave the prayer.

"An Effectual Prayer Life" was the subject of Rev. Dillon at the Saturday morning service when he based his talk on Matthew 6:5-15.

At the final service Sunday evening, Rev. Dillon based his talk on the Sermon on the Mount, discussing "Be Ye Perfect As Your Father in Heaven Is Also Perfect." Rev. Dillon reminded the Friends that "God has a standard for man," and man should "seek earnestly his standard" so that "he can provide the deepest needs of your life."

A total of 4,633 meals was served to the Meeting attendees throughout the six-day Meeting, an increase of 260 over the 1956 Meeting when 4,693 meals were served.

Army Silent On Mistreatment Of 10 Recruits

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.

—The Army clamped a secrecy alleged brutal treatment of 10 recruits at nearby Ft. Carson.

Maj. Gen. Harry P. Storke, commanding general, said information as to the nature of the mistreatment and extent of any injuries would be made public when army investigators completed their work.

The official announcement said the commander of the trainees company and eight enlisted men are under suspicion. It added that sufficient evidence had been gathered to recommend court-martial proceedings, which may begin this week.

Three of the enlisted men were confined to quarters. The officer, Capt. John Webb, was transferred to a post in which he commands no troops, the Army statement said.

One of the investigators termed the injuries "slight." He said the men were not treated at the base hospital following their alleged mistreatment two weeks ago.

Income

states showed sizable advances in all major income sources.

An upturn in the coal-mining industry helped boost West Virginia's total income by 11 per cent last year. Louisiana rose 10 per cent over the year, mostly from nonagricultural sources.

The report showed the average income level of the Far West is the highest in the country and about 20 per cent above the national average. The Great Lakes states were about 10 per cent higher than the average. Most of the rest of the country was below average.

RIDE on a ROCKET

AT HURRICANE MESA, UT., engineers have developed a new supersonic ejection seat that resembles a ride on a skyrocket. Two telescoping booms, extending almost five feet beyond the upper back of the pilot's seat, give the aerial bobsled seat exceptional stability. In the first successful test, the sled, traveling faster than the speed of sound, rocketed the seat almost 300 feet above the track. The seat sailed smoothly clear of the edge of the mesa and floated safely to the canyon floor, 1,500 feet below. The seat, mounted on the sled with the dummy lying in a knee-chest position, was undamaged. The seat is for jet aircraft.

Cleveland Takes Double Bill From Washington 3-2, 6-4

Garcia, McLish Are Winners

Tribe Opens Series With Orioles Tuesday

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bobby Avila, aided by a pair of glasses, is making a comeback.

The Cleveland Indians' second baseman won the American League batting championship in 1954 when he hit .341. After that, his average started to slip and last season he batted only .224.

Manager Kerby Farrell benched him early this season because of his poor hitting. Unable to regain his batting form, Avila was also having trouble in the field.

He had consulted eye specialists before the season opened and finally decided to wear glasses when he took his turn at the plate. The results were amazing.

After donning the specs, his average has steadily climbed. His .277 is currently best of the Tribe behind Gene Woodling and Vic Wertz.

Avila hit a single and run-producing double and started three doubleplays in the field Sunday as the Indians swept both ends of a doubleheader from the Washington Senators.

Gene Woodling, Jim Hegan and Al Smith hit home runs in the first game and Mike Garcia pitched a five-hitter as the Indians won 3-2.

A triple by Joe Altobelli and doubles by Avila, Smith and Hegan helped Cal McLish to his seventh victory in the nightcap as the Indians won 6-4.

The twin loss dropped Washington into last place and mathematically eliminated them from the American League pennant chase.

Garcia won his seventh game against eight defeats, striking out seven and giving up only one earned run.

Chico Carrasquel's error on a ground ball allowed Milt Bolling to sprint home with a run in the third inning. Pete Runnels' double to rightfield in the fifth scored the other Senators' tally.

The Indians had on their hitting shoes against the Senators belting seven hits in the first game, six for extra bases, and 10 in the second game, four of them for extra bases.

Roy Sievers hit a two-run homer for Washington in the second game, his 33rd of the season. He has now batted in 89 runs, tops in the league.

Chuck Stobbs was the losing pitcher in the opener. Russ Kemmerer lost the nightcap, his seventh in 16 decisions.

Farrell used only one substitute in the double header, lifting McLish for relief pitcher Ray Narveski in the ninth with two out.

The Tribe is idle today. They open a three-game series with Baltimore here Tuesday night.

WINS GOLF TITLE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ray Spiers of Lancaster won the Class AA division of the Knights of Columbus state golf championship Sunday with a par 72. Other winners were: Joe McCrone, Cleveland, Division A, 75; Bruno Foslke, Warren, Division BB, 77; Ted Mulhrein, Mansfield, Division B; Ralph Vetter, Toledo, Division CC, 82; and Charles Catalano, Cleveland, Division C, 83. Dayton "500" took the title in team competition with a 305 total.

FIGHT RESULTS

By The Associated Press

St. Paul, Minn. — Del Flanagan, 155, outpointed Ralph (Tiger) Jones, 156½, St. Albans, N. Y., 10.

Braves, Dodgers Victors

White Sox Win 2 from Orioles; Tigers Clobber Yankees 7-2

By The Associated Press

Those Chicago White Sox die so hard, who knows? They might just manage to stay alive.

You can smile, pal, but don't laugh. After sweeping a pair from Baltimore 6-2 and 3-0, while New York lost a single game at Detroit 7-2 Sunday, the White Sox are only four games behind the Yankees in the American League chase.

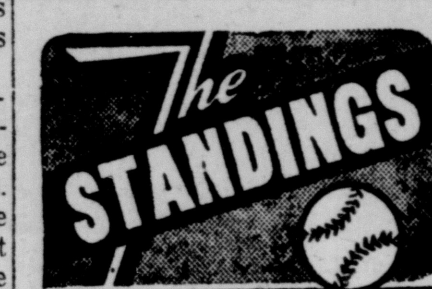

Another Yankee loss at Detroit today, while the Sox are idle, and a Chicago sweep in a three-game series with New York opening at Comiskey Park Tuesday night would bring the Sox within three percentage points of the top.

All of which could upset the pre-season dope, making it an all-the-way race in the AL while Milwaukee runs away with it in the National. The Braves grabbed a 7½-game lead again by defeating Philadelphia 7-2 as Brooklyn knocked off second-place St. Louis 6-5.

The New York Giants, pressing for the first division, clobbered Cincinnati 10-1. Chicago's Cubs, blanked 3-0 on four hits by Vern Law, bounced back with 16 hits in the nightcap at Pittsburgh for an 8-2 decision.

In the other AL games, Kansas City defeated Boston 3-2 and Cleveland swept Washington 3-2 and 6-4.

Don't knock the White Sox's chances. The Yankees are only 5-5.

21 Are Entered In Hambletonian

Hoot Song Looms As Popular Choice

DUQUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Hoot Song looms as the popular choice for Tuesday's betless Hambletonian, the Kentucky Derby of harness racing.

The big trotting stake for 3-year-olds, held for the first time on the exceptionally fast baked clay mile oval at the DuQuoin State Fairgrounds has drawn a field of 21.

The track, given good weather, is conducive to a record, but some observers feel the field doesn't have enough class even with perfect conditions.

For the first time since 1940 there will be no pari-mutuel wagering. It is unlawful at state fairgrounds in Illinois. But the railbirds are active and there are unofficial odds floating around.

Hoot Song, sired by Hoot Mon, whose two-minute heat in 1947 at the Hambletonian's former home, N. Y., home stands as a record, is rated an even choice. So are Hickory Smoke and Buckeye Demon.

Based on performances this year, Hoot Song, a black filly owned by Two Gait Farm of Carmel, Ind., and driven by Ralph Baldwin, could better two minutes. She trotted 2:01 3-5 at Sedalia, Mo., last week for the best time of the year for a Hambo eligible.

Buckeye Demon, owned by Batentkirk Stable of East Dorset, Vt., and piloted by Harrison Hoyt — the only amateur ever to win the race — has the second best time of eligible colts, 2:01 4-5.

Hickory Smoke, the winter book favorite, is owned by L. B. Shepherd and A. C. Mudge of Hanover, Pa., and will have John Simpson at the reins. Smoke's best mile of the season is 2:02 3-5. Simpson, 37, and Baldwin, 41, never have won the Hambletonian although each is a veteran of seven or eight years in it.

Because rules of racing prohibit the DuQuoin State Fair from starting more than 20 horses in any one race, a division elimination setup will be used for the first time.

The first division will have a field of 11 and the second 10. There will be two heats of a mile in each. A showdown mile of the heat winners (there could be two, three or four) will follow to determine the champion.

The first heat of division No. 1 will start at 2:45 p.m. EST and the first heat of the second division goes off at 3 p.m. The second heats are spaced an hour apart with the decisive fifth heat coming at 3:50 p.m.

The gross purse is $111,126.25, second only to the $117,117.98 with a record 23 entries in 1953. That race was permitted to be trotted in tiers with all 23 in the field under New York state harness racing regulations.

The maximum winner's share this time will be $47,917.62 but in order to attain it a horse must win each heat in his division and the fifth heat. First money in any heat is $13,068.4 with a winner-take-all jackpot of $21,780.74 for the showdown mile.

Ed Updegraff Wins Western Amateur

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Veteran Ed Updegraff, a tall, balding Arizona surgeon, is the new champion of the gruelling Western Amateur, and no one was more surprised than the doctor himself.

The 35-year-old Updegraff made reservations to return to his home in Tucson, Ariz., before each of the first three rounds of match play and had to cancel them.

"Expected to qualify for the top 16 in match play, but that was all," Updegraff said Sunday after defeating Walker Cup player Joe Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn., 9 and 8, in the finals with remarkable iron play.

The loose-jointed, 160-pounder upset 19-year-old Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., 2 and 1, in the semifinals.

Updegraff played 203 holes of golf over seven days to get the biggest title of his career on the Old Watson Country Club course, 6,902 yards of rolling greens and dangerous roughs with a 35-36-71 par.

Over 500 Ponies Expected To Enter Canfield Fair Show

Approximately five hundred head of ponies from all over Ohio are expected to enter the pony show at the Canfield Fair which is rated as the biggest Class "A" pony exhibit east of the Mississippi River.

Ed Jenkins will be in charge of announcing pony events at the fair which runs Aug. 29 through Sept. 2. Fair Board Director Homer Schaeffer said today.

The "pony beauty parlor," a popular feature that was inaugurated last year, will be in operation again. The beauty parlor is a grooming headquarters for ponies entering the various events.

A new breed of pony has been added to this year's pony show, with the addition of fourteen classes under the heading of "Registered Welsh Ponies." All ponies being shown under this class must be registered under the Welsh Pony Society of America.

The Buckeye Shetland Pony Breeder's Futurity which was started in 1954 goes into its fourth year under the management of the Mahoning Valley Pony Breeder's Association.

There were thirty nominations to the Futurity in 1954. Nominations this year total seventy-one, including stallions, mares, colts, yearlings, and two-year-olds. Adequate housing for the hundreds of ponies that will be entered, is being provided, Schaeffer said. The great surge of interest in ponies has called for continued expansion of the pony barns over the past several years.

Schaeffer, who is also in charge of draft horses at the fair, says that 50 entries have already been received. These draft horses are strictly show horses and will not participate in the Pig Iron Derby, Schaeffer pointed out.

Entries in the 1957 Shetland Pony Breeder's Futurity include the following: Adams Dairy Farm, Blue Springs, Missouri; W. E. Broden, M.D., Canton, Ohio; J. M. Cavanaugh, M.D., Canfield; Corey Pony Farm, Columbiana; Diamond Pony Farm, Diamond, Ohio; H. P. Kilgely, Cuba City, Wisconsin; H. H. Mabry, Lodi, Ohio; John C. Murray, Creston, Ohio; Pine Stable, Erie, Pennsylvania; Harold Reynolds, Garrettsville, Ohio; Clyde A. Richardson, Sr., Dunkirk, Ohio; Saddle Acres Pony Farm, Forest Hill, Maryland; Leo Soehnen, Canton, Ohio; Albert A. Strouss, Columbus; James Watkins, Jr., Canfield; and J. H. Vidney Jr., Warren.

The Giants touched up five Red-leg pitchers for 15 hits, punching out runs in groups of one and two, plus a four-run outburst in the sixth inning.

Don Mueller led the New York assault with five hits. He joined Danny O'Connell belting consecutive homers that highlighted the big sixth inning.

That was the second homer of the game for Mueller who started the Giants off right with a four base blast in the first inning.

The Giants punched out two runs each in the third and fifth innings and finished up in the eighth with a single marker on two singles and a sacrifice fly.

Ruben Gomez went all the way for the Giants giving up seven hits for his fourth straight victory over the Reds.

Cincinnati finishes a two-game series here today with a single game that pits rookie Vicente Amor against Mike McCormick on the mound.

Babe Ruth Title Won By Pensacola, Fla.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Pensacola, Fla., with a stingy two-man pitching staff when it came to doling out hits and runs reigns Monday as world champion of Babe Ruth League baseball.

The Floridians raced through three rivals to take the crown as pitchers Lou Vickery and Don Griffey issued but two earned runs and 12 hits in 21 innings.

Vickery pitched Pensacola to the title Sunday with a masterful two-hit, 9-0 victory over Stamford, Conn. The same lefthander beat New Orleans 6-1 Tuesday with a five-hitter.

Griffey pitched Pensacola through Friday's semifinal with a five-hit 9-2 conquest of Lyndhurst, N. J.

Venturi Wins Milwaukee Open

Victory Second In Tourney Play

MILWAUKEE (AP)—For a golfer who maintains money is secondary, boyish looking Ken Venturi of San Francisco is doing all right for himself.

The 26-year-old pro pocketed a $6,000 check Sunday for winning the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament by five strokes with a 13-under-par 267 at the 6,355-yard Tripoli Golf Club.

The victory, his second in a row in tournament play, catapulted him from 30th to 15th place on the PGA's money list with earnings of $14,211 in less than four months.

Venturi turned pro Nov. 23, 1956, but he didn't become eligible for money in PGA cosponsored events until May 23. During that six-month probationary period, he won $4,249 in non-PGA sponsored tournaments, plus about $1,000 in pro-am events. In the last nine months his winnings add up to around $20,000.

Not bad for a guy who says, "My main purpose is to see how much I can win tournament wise, not money wise. I figure if I play to win and not for money, the money will take care of itself."

Venturi carded rounds of 68-66-65-68 in the 72-hole event over the par 35-35-70 course. Last week, he won the St. Paul Open with a 22-under-par 266.

He beat 16 of the top 18 PGA money winners here, including Al Balding, Ontario, Canada and Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who tied for second place with 272s. They collected $3,500 apiece.

In a tie for fourth place, were Howie Johnson, Houston, Tex.; Bob Rosburg, San Francisco; and Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass. They had 276s for $1,866 each.

FENSTERWALD IN TIE

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Dow Fensterwald finished in a six-way tie for 17th place in the Milwaukee Open, with a closing round of 70 Sunday which gave him a 289 total and $485 in prize money.

Mahoning Polo Team Drops Salem Club

The Salem polo club went down to defeat at the hands of the Mahoning team 8-5 in a game played in a downpour of rain on the local field Sunday afternoon.

Stan Strouss and Eddie Roberts led the hard-riding Mahoning squad to victory, each tallied three goals. Smolten and Curly Crum added one goal apiece to the team's total.

Phil Thompson paced the Salem team, chalking up two markers, and Paul Powers, Jim Watson and Glen Tetemanzi each scored one point.

Mahoning built up a 5-3 score by intermission and then tallied three points to two for the losers during the second half.

2 Dead Following Shootings in Home

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Authorities in nearby Barnesville said Robert Chester Adkins, about 48, apparently shot and fatally wounded Paul Anderson, 22, and then killed himself Sunday. Barnesville Night Marshal Raymond West said the shootings took place at Adkins' home. After Anderson was shot, he apparently staggered from the house to a neighbor's home, where he died while police were being called. Both were shot in the head with bullets from a .22 caliber revolver, West said. He said the men "had been having trouble" and were reportedly under peace bonds but did not elaborate.

Good Attendance at Ohio Fair Hinges on Remaining 5 Days

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State Fair officials are counting on the five remaining days to bring attendance up to early hopes.

Attendance thus far, they said, has been disappointing. Policy this year prohibits officials from making any estimates of crowds, but paid admissions on opening day and Saturday were reported around 13,000 or 14,000. That's about 20,000 below attendance figures on the corresponding days a year ago.

Sunday, despite fog and drizzle, the fair drew its largest crowd in the three days it has been running.

Newsman, here for Press, Radio and Television Day, estimated the attendance was well above Friday and Saturday crowds.

In the first three days of the fair a year ago, paid admissions numbered 90,991. Fair officials said they doubted the figure would be as high this year.

A report furnished by State Auditor James A. Rhodes showed the Rin Tin Tin-Holmes Rodeo show drew 17,382 persons Friday and Saturday and brought a gross profit of $11,902.25. Another $4,727.25

Molly Bee Show, the report showed.

Today is Ohio Cities and Health and Safety Day at the fair and livestock judging is expected to be heavy in most breeds, both in junior and senior divisions.

Entertainment shows continue today, including the Ernie Ford Show, with an afternoon and evening performance. The show opened Sunday to a well-filled grandstand, but attendance figures were not made available.

Harness racing gets under way at 1 p. m. with the Flying Indiana Indians scheduled to give a free morning show in the infield.

In a running feature at the fair, more than 1,000 persons Sunday voted at a demonstration of voting machines in the tent of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

The results:

Did you vote in the 1956 general election? Yes, 680; No, 59.

Will you vote in this year's general election? Yes, 762; No, 450.

Do you favor amending the Ohio constitution permitting persons who have not lived in Ohio one year to vote for president? Yes, 796; No, 388.

Who will win the National League pennant? Milwaukee, 561; Cincinnati, 407; St. Louis, 121; Brooklyn, 265; Philadelphia, 61.

Amusement Device Fall At Park Kills Boy, 10

CINCINNATI — A fall from a moving amusement device at nearby Coney Island has proved fatal to a 10-year-old Withamsville, Ohio, boy.

Russell Gilbert Mack, Jr., died at Christ Hospital Sunday night of head and other injuries suffered a few hours earlier in the tumble.

The boy had been on an outing with his parents and friends when he "jumped or fell" from the device, according to E. L. Schott, president of the amusement park.

The device comprises several cabs suspended from a central pole around which the cabs whirl parallel to the ground.

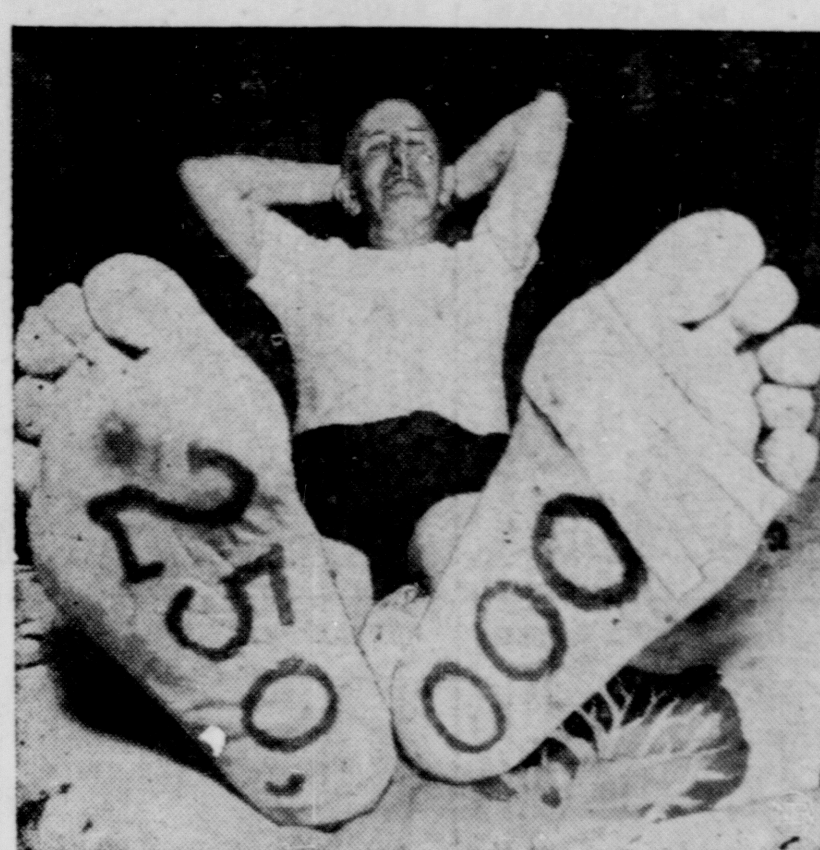

Schott said officials checked the door latch on the cab from which the boy fell and found it in good condition.

Salem Saxon Chorus To Rehearse Tonight

The Salem Saxon Chorus will rehearse this evening at the Saxon Club instead of tomorrow evening as previously scheduled.

The group will practice for the Saengerfest, which will be held here Sunday and Monday.

Locks Martin, a salesman in Texas, is 7 feet, 7 inches tall.

NOTHING TO IT — Patrick Theines, 73, a retired railway brakeman from California, says, "There's no reason to let a little thing like polio get you down," as he relaxes in Joliet, Ill., after walking from San Diego. Theines, stricken with polio in 1906, started walking long distances to strengthen his legs, and figures he's walked 250,000 miles since then. He left San Diego on June 29, and averaged around 45 miles a day. Pat, who is on his way to New York, plans to stop over in Cleveland to give a few hopeful words to a nine-year-old nephew, Lee Funk, also a polio victim. He expects to arrive in New York Sept. 5.

Red Farmers Called on To Speed Grain Harvest

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda has called on farmers in Siberia to speed up the grain harvest.

The Communist party newspaper said Sunday only 8 to 16 per cent of the crops were in by Aug. 20 in some areas. It blamed late ripening of the crops and poor use of machinery.

Grain harvests Aug. 20 were 12,355,000 acres ahead of last year outside of Siberia, the paper reported.

Increased agricultural production is being pushed by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco, ruler of Spain since 1939, began his political career as military governor of the Canary Islands, a Spanish possession of southwest Africa.

2 Airmen Bail Out Of Jet, Land Safely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Air Force lieutenants bailed out of their stricken jet trainer and landed safely in Chesapeake Bay late Sunday night, an Air Force spokesman said today.

The two were identified as Lt. G. K. Bowling and Lt. G. Williams, both of the 3594th Combat Crew Training Squadron, Nellis

Air Force Base, Las Vegas, Nev. The spokesman said the T33 jet trainer had refueled at Andrews Air Force Base here before taking off for Greenville, Miss.

Basel, Switzerland, which is 500 miles from the sea up the Rhine River, takes in and moves out about 4 million tons of overseas ship cargo each year.

There never has been a car like the Edsel.

Behind it lie all of the resources of Ford Motor Company, all of the experience, all of the engineering skill.

Behind the Edsel, too, is the finest group of dealers any new car has ever had.

Their facilities are as new in concept as the Edsel itself. One example: service departments built around a completely new idea in car care—Edsel Green Light Service.

In getting ready to serve you, Edsel Dealers have matched the quarter-billion-dollar investment of the Ford Motor Company in the Edsel.

Why have these men invested so much in a car you haven't seen? The answer is this: they have seen it, they have driven it. They know that you will find many things that make the Edsel different from any car you have ever driven. More exciting, more sure, more safe.

Driving a car that is truly original—not a copy of any existing car, not a compromise—is an experience you will never forget. Plan now to accept your Edsel Dealer's invitation to see and drive the Edsel.
